Turkish Marines In Seizure Of Krupp Shipyards

Dismissal For German Naval Technicians

ISTANBUL, Feb. 8—(AP)—Turkish marines today occupied the German-owned Krupp shipyards on the Golden Horn at Istanbul.

It was announced the Turkish government is dismissing German naval engineers and technicians who had been equipping Turkish submarines for the Turkish navy at the seized yards.

The Golden Horn, where the yards are located, is an inlet of the strategic Bosphorus, straits which separate Aria Minor from Europe.

Official quarters confirmed that German residents of Turkey, particularly businessmen, have departed in large numbers during the last few days.

While some sources attributed this to Germany's desire to have all available manpower in the Reich for a big drive against the Allies, others connected it with the widespread feeling that war may spread to southeastern Europe and the Near East in the spring.

Another factor in the picture was the arrival in Egypt yesterday of General Maxine Weygand, commander of France's near eastern forces; ostensibly on an inspection tour.

Egypt is expected to serve as a reservoir for troops and supplies in case the British, French and Turkish armies should make an attack, as some prophesy, against Russia's rich caucasian oil fields.

Not Taken Seriously

BERLIN, Feb. 8—(AP)—Authorized German sources said tonight they did not take a serious view of the seizure of the Krupp shipyards at Istanbul.

"Things like that happen in Turkey," said one spokesman. "They usually are straightened out later."

Asked whether this might lead to a break if diplomatic relations one authorized source said: "For the present certainly we don't take a serious view of the situation. One can never know of course whether this time unusual circumstances have not occurred."

Canadian Troops Reach England

SOMEWHERE IN BRITAIN, Feb. 8—(AP)—Under the wing of Britain's navy, the third contingent of Canadian active service forces have been landed in England.

Like the two previous contingents, the new wave of khaki-clad Canadian fighting men arrived unheralded, under cover of darkness, gray troopships moved silently up a British river and when the sun rose were lying at anchor surrounded by naval vessels and fishing smacks.

Attracted by the sight, thousands crowded to docks and promenades overlooking the harbor to wave and cheer. They were unaware from what part of the empire the troops had come, however, until the first tender brought ashore its load of singing, whistling Canadians.

The debarkation of the Canadian troops was announced today in a war office bulletin:

"A further contingent of the Canadian active service force has arrived in this country and has proceeded to its concentration area."

No announcement was made of the size of the force or the units it comprised.

Village Sampson Passes Away

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Feb. 8—(AP)—The biggest man in south Missouri died here today. Doctors said pneumonia, following influenza, was responsible for the death of 425-pound Benjamin Franklin Beck, 49, of Cabool.

Beck was the village Sampson, and his strong man acts usually were of great help to his neighbors. Once a wind twisted a house at Cabool on its foundation. Beck alone put it right. On another occasion, he carried a sick cow a quarter of a mile to the owner's barn.

Funeral services for Beck, a farmer and the father of two children, are to be held at Cabool. He'll be buried in a special oversize casket.

Former Ambassador Dodd Is Ill

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—(AP)—William E. Dodd, former ambassador to Germany, is critically ill with pneumonia at his Round Hill, Va., home.

Fire Causes Damage Of $150 To Dillon Home

A fire of undetermined origin caused damage estimated at $150 to the home of Fred Dillon, 304 West Third street, Wednesday afternoon.

The fire, apparently starting in the basement, burned through the first floor and up the walls to the second floor.

Near the kitchen there was a hole burned in the floor and the walls were damaged. The furniture on both floors was undamaged.

McKittrick In Suit Claims A Fund For State

Action Is Over Unclaimed Excess Risk Payments

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 8—(AP)—Attorney General Roy McKittrick filed a suit today claiming for the state treasury a fund of $2,360,488 unclaimed excess premiums involved in the 18-year-old 10 per cent fire insurance rate case.

The suit, filed in the Cole county court, is the first of its kind ever brought in this country, McKittrick said. It is based, he explained, upon old English court decisions for which no precedent has been found in United States courts or in the state escheat law.

The fund sought is the remainder of about $13,000,000 collected by insurance companies in defiance of a 10 per cent rate reduction order issued by the state insurance department in 1922. More than $10,000,000 has been returned to policyholders.

That is all that can be returned, McKittrick argued in his suit. No part of the remainder "has been claimed by any person lawfully entitled thereto nor can the defendant (state insurance superintendent Ray B. Lucas) return any of said money to any lawful owner thereof," since he "is unable to find any of said policyholders."

"Money Vacant Property"

Therefore, McKittrick concluded, "said money is vacant property and without an owner and, by reason thereof, belongs to and is the property of the state of Missouri."

If recovered, the money would go to the state school fund, which statutes provide as the beneficiary of such recoveries, McKittrick said.

The suit, a friendly one, was directed against Lucas as present custodian of the fund. It was paid to him under a Missouri supreme court ruling last October which removed the money from the custody of the Cole county circuit court.

Several suits by lawyers and former commissioners of the fund seeking fees which were disallowed by the supreme court are still pending against the fund, as well as suits by the state to recover expenditures from it which later were held invalid.

Soviets Are Determined To Keep Fighting

Decorations To 255 Naval Officers And Men Made

MOSCOW, Feb. 8—(AP)—The Soviet union is determined to continue its offensive against Finland until the Finnish forces holding the Mannerheim line are annihilated, according to Admiral Tributz, commander of the Soviet navy in the Baltic sea.

The admiral's pledge of continued war was made yesterday in connection with the bestowal of decorations on 255 naval officers and men "for exemplary fulfillment of tasks on the front against the white Finns."

The Communist newspaper, Pravda at the same time accused Britain and France of "striving to turn the war tides against the Soviet Union.

"But plans for utilizing Finland as a base for military intervention against the Soviet Union shall be crushed by Red army blows," the newspaper declared.

"Soviet armed forces are capable of meeting any enemy on land, air, water or under water.

"In fierce battles at Changkufeng, Mongolia, in the western Ukraine and in Finland the Red army has covered with glory the military might of the U. S. S. R."

The Pravda article was in advance of the army and navy's 22nd anniversary celebration Feb. 23.

Bothwell Hospital Notes

Miss Goldie White, 1209 East Ninth street, admitted to the hospital for medical attention.

F. C. Wilhite, 311 West Seventh street, who several days ago suffered a paralytic stroke, was taken to the Missouri Pacific hospital in St. Louis early today.

T. J. Bunn, 710 East Broadway, who received severe injuries last Sunday morning when struck by a hit-and-run driver, was taken to the Missouri Pacific hospital in St. Louis early today.

Mrs. Edgar Snapp, admitted to the hospital Wednesday for treatment, was operated upon for appendicitis early today. Her condition is as well as could be expected.

Large Crowd Hears Grainger At Sedalia Symphony Concert

Percy Grainger dominated a music festival Wednesday night and joyously entertained as pianist, conductor and composer. Mr. Grainger appeared as guest artist with Sedalia Symphony orchestra at the Smith-Cotton high school auditorium in its second concert of the season.

To say that "the man plays according to his nature" is not to understate his virtuosity for that was brilliantly displayed—it is simply to emphasize that his inimitable music-making has an appeal to a wide variety of music lovers.

Played Brahm's 'Cradle Song'

Nothing could have spoken of peace and serenity more beautifully than his interpretation of the Brahms' "Cradle Song," arranged for piano by the soloist himself.

Again, his execution of the Liszt piano concerto, "Fantasy" with its flamboyant runs and resounding chords, was a rare musical presentation. He was ably supported in the concerto by the orchestra with Abe Rosenthal conducting.

Mr. Grainger gave Debussy's "Moonlight" as an encore, and the famous pianist's artistic vision, crowning his facile technique, once more was illustrated.

The audience, the largest that has ever attended a Sedalia Symphony concert, reveled in the fast beat and pungent rhythm of Dett's Juba Dance, a re-creation of a Negro moods in the river bottoms of the south, and again in "Maguire's Kick," an Irish martial air of power, arranged by Grainger from a Stanford composition.

Mr. Grainger responded to antimatedly demanded encores with "Country Gardens" and his ingenious arrangements of "Sea Shanty, One More Day My John" and "Scotch Strathspey and Reel."

Played Own Numbers

Following his solo group, Mr. Grainger conducted the orchestra in three of his own numbers, "Mock Morris," "Colonial Song" and "Shepherd's Hey.'

The program was opened by Mr. Rosenthal and the orchestra with an excellent performance of the overture to 'The Creations of Prometheus,' by Beethoven. "Dagger Dance" and "Invocation" from Victor Herbert's Indian opera, "Natoma," were given effective and well modulated treatment. The final orchestral offering was Elgar's "Pomp and Circumstance," the English Coronation march. Never has Mr. Rosenthal's orchestra played so surely as it did last night.

'She Lives'

"She lives. I'll find her in 60 days," Ivan Poderjay, former Yugoslav army captain, was saying when this photo was snapped. He referred to his wife, Agnes Tufverson, successful New York corporation lawyer, missing since he married her in 1933, and thought murdered. He served 5 years for the bigamous marriage, and is pictured at Ellis Island, N. Y., awaiting deportation to Yugoslavia.

Scout Week Is To Be Observed

Court Of Honor For The Scout Troops Here

Sedalia's Boy Scouts, and there are three hundred of them, are going to assist in the observance of national Boy Scout Week, beginning today and continuing until February 15.

Dr. G. H. Abney, and his council members, are arranging for a Court of Honor, to be conducted by Judge Dimmitt Hoffman, the date for which has not been definitely determined.

Some of the Sedalia stores will have window displays appropriate for the occasion, and troops will attend services in bodies Sunday.

The Sedalia troops, seventeen including the Cub Pack, and their leaders, are:

Troop 50, Scoutmaster, Ellis Norris; assistant, Cecil Hill.

Troop 51, Scoutmaster, Wm. Bunn.

Troop 53, Scoutmaster, Louis Alley, assistant, Wm. Walker.

Troop 54, Scoutmaster, Ellsworth Green; assistant, Philip Kain.

Troop 55, Scoutmaster, C. H. Gooch.

Troop 56, Scoutmaster, Edwin Martin.

Troop 57, Scoutmaster, Kenneth Husbands.

Troop 58, Scoutmaster, John Joe McGrath.

Troop 59, Scoutmaster, Kenneth Johnson; assistants, Hardin Gouge, Robert Overstreet.

Troop 60, Scoutmaster, George Peak.

Troop 61, Scoutmaster, Albert Steiner, at Houstonia.

Troop 62, Scoutmaster, W. E. Sullens.

Troop 63, Sea Scouts, John Whaley.

Troop 65, Scoutmaster, Elbert Shores.

Troop 67, Scoutmaster, Ernest Morrow.

Troop 161, Scoutmaster, Raymond Peterson.

Cub Pack, Cub Master, Paul Bender; assistant, E. R. Olds.

There are sixty troop committeemen and thirty-five board members.

Aid To Finns Is Approved By Nazis

FORT WORTH, Tex., Feb. 8—(AP)—The French have sent ski troops and the British are dispatching both planes and pilots to Finland with Germany's full knowledge and approval, Hugh S. Gibson, former U. S. ambassador to Belgium, said as he arrived in Fort Worth on a lecture tour.

"Obviously the Germans want the Baltic to remain a German lake," Gibson declared. "The Russian invasion of Finland is a development of the Russo-German treaty most unwelcome to the Reich, and though Britain and France are at war with Germany on the western front, allied troops in Finland have Germany's blessing."

Allied efforts at secrecy about aid to Finland are maintained to help Germany save her face with Russia, Gibson added.

Nazis Admit Heavy Losses

BERLIN, Feb. 8—(AP)—Germany acknowledged today the loss of 236,957 tons of shipping since the beginning of the war but declared that her enemies and neutral countries had lost 1,493,431 tons.

Germany's losses were given as 42 ships and enemy and neutral losses as at least 409 ships sunk up to the end of January.

In addition, 354 neutral merchantmen were taken to German ports to be disposed of in prize court proceedings, said a high command communique.

Germany's losses were put at 13,196 tons of shipping confiscated at the outbreak of the war in enemy ports; 82,236 tons seized and 141,525 tons scuttled to avoid seizure.

Britain Replies To Claim

LONDON, Feb. 8—(AP)—Britain replied today to the Berlin claim that the Germans had sunk 409 allied and neutral merchantmen since the war began with an admiralty tabulation putting at 274 the total of such merchantmen lost up to midnight February 4.

A British sopkesman said: "These are the correct figures; the others (German) aren't."

League Expert Ordered To Leave

BERNE, Feb. 8—(AP)—Switzerland today ordered Soviet Russia's league of nations expert, Vladimir Sokoline, to leave the country within two weeks.

The order was issued by both the Swiss federal and Geneva Cantonal governments, rejecting Moscow's explanation for wanting to keep Sokoline in Switzerland.

Reds Protest French Raids

Complaint Made By Ambassador Not To Be Considered

MOSCOW, Feb. 8—(AP)—The Soviet union has accused French police of widespread raids against Russians and Russian agencies in Paris and has demanded surrender of documents allegedly seized from the Soviet Trade office there.

Tass, official Russian news agency, announced both the raids and a resulting diplomatic protest in a communique last night.

The communique charged police also searched the premises of Intourist, an organization which assists foreign travel in Russia, a former Soviet school, and residences of certain members of the trade mission.

The Russian ambassador to Paris, Jakob Surits, lodged a protest with the French foreign office Monday afternoon.

Not Consider Protest

PARIS, Feb. 8 — (AP) — The French government was reliably reported today to have refused to consider a Soviet Russian protest against a police raid Monday on the Russian commercial office in Paris.

Sources close to the foreign office said the protest lodged by Soviet Ambassador Jakob Surits could not be entertained, as neither the trade representatives nor the commercial offices had diplomatic immunity.

Three Russian commercial agents were held during the raid, foreign office sources said, but later were released.

Cold Wave Due In State Tonight

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 8—(AP)—Whether you like it or not, another cold blast is expected to send temperatures down to 10 or below over most of Missouri tonight and tomorrow.

Snow was forecast for the western portion of the state tonight, with rain turning to snow in the eastern half. It will clear up Friday but that does not mean warmer weather, according to the weather bureau.

A strong northwest wind will cause a sharp drop in temperatures throughout the southeastern section by tomorrow afternoon.

Finnish-like cold air was spreading southward over the Rocky Mountains and upper Missouri Valley this morning, with a well developed disturbance central over southeastern Kansas. Sub-zero temperatures were reported in North Dakota.

Railways To Provide Private Auto Service

CHICAGO, Feb. 8—(AP)—Eleven western railroads soon will provide private automobile service for passengers who desire it at the end of their rail trips.

In their bid for increased patronage, the roads will offer the new rail-auto service in 150 cities of 30 states beginning May 1.

The 2,000 cars to be used will be current five-passenger models, the announcement said. The basic rate will be eight cents a mile, subject to certain minimum charges.

Suspects Flee; Leaping Out Of An Ambulance

Valuable Jewels Are Found In Wrecked Auto

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 8—(AP)—Leaving a more seriously injured companion behind, two men jumped from an ambulance and fled today after they had wrecked their automobile in attempting to escape from state highway patrolmen who had pursued them at high speed.

In the wrecked car officers found jewelry appraised at $7,200, two revolvers, three pouches of cartridges, eight keys of the skeleton variety, a crowbar, a hacksaw and spare blades and a wrench. The car, a 1939 coach, carried Minnesota licenses.

State Highway Patrolman G. T. McIntyre and K. P. Bieber had chased the automobile at 85 miles an hour and were being outdistanced when the other machine failed to take a curve and overturned.

One of the occupants was thrown to the ground and the other two men suffered cuts. After administering first aid, the highway police called an ambulance and the men were sent unguarded to the St. Louis county hospital.

When the ambulance slowed down for an intersection on the way, the two men who had been cut in the wreck jumped out and fled on foot. The head of one of them had been bandaged.

The ambulance continued to the hospital with the third man, who was treated there for apparent shock and cuts and bruises. A driver's license in his pocket bore the name of a resident of St. Paul, Minn.

The jewelry found in the wrecked car, carried in cases such as salesmen use, included two brooches, 34 rings and two bracelets.

The highway police will check the jewelry against the loss reported in a residence burglary at Springfield, Mo., last night, but Capt. L. B. Howard said the presence of the cases and the quantity of the rings made any connection seem unlikely.

Five Arrests Over Bogus Bills

ST. LOUIS, Feb. 8—(AP)—Quick action by a storekeeper who had been given a spurious $10 bill enabled police today to round up two men and three women as suspected members of a counterfeit ring.

The police said they had information approximately $70,000 in bogus currency had been circulated in New York, Detroit and other eastern cities in recent weeks, $13,000 in New York alone.

Among the prisoners were three ex-convicts, Johnson Giles, his wife Adeline, and Lee Nidiffer. A report on the arrests, signed by Detective Captain Francis McCormack, said Nidiffer had confessed passing four bogus $10 bills here last night.

A counterfeit was given to Joseph Reddick, owner of a radio shop, by two men in payment for a 70-cent radio tube. Reddick noticed the ink on the bill was darker than usual and he ran outside in time to note the license number of an automobile in which one of the men left. He reported it to police.

Capt. McCormack's report said Nidiffer had claimed he found a box containing 320 counterfeit $10 bills in a second-hand automobile he purchased recently. He was quoted as saying he began passing the bills immediately and made a trip to New York for the purpose.

Divorces Husband Wearing Clothes To Bed

Senate Support On Proposal For A Loan To Finland

Kiwanis Review Of Activities

Sedalia Kiwanians this noon listened to a recapitulation of their 1939 activities when the Achievement Report for that period was read by George H. Scruton, committee member, who with Guy T. Callendar, chairman, C. L. Hanley, Paul Hedderich and Herbert Schrankler prepared the data to be submitted to Kiwanis International.

The speaker was presented by John Cameron, program chairman.

Reuben Tapperson, a representative of the Associated Industries of Missouri, was a club guest.

Foes Dropped Behind Finnish Lines Captured

Power Of Soviet Attacks Seems Diminishing

HELSINKI, Feb. 8—(AP)—The capture of "several" patrols of Russian soldiers who parachuted to earth behind the Finnish lines was reported today by a Finnish communique which said four more Soviet warplanes had been downed in aerial fighting.

The Russian patrols were disguised in Finnish army uniforms for operations behind the battle lines, a possibility against which Finland has warned her soldiers and citizens.

The communique described the fresh Finnish successes against the invaders on the Karelian isthums, northeast of Lake Ladoga and further north along the Russian frontier.

The Finnish command reported a weakening of Russian attacks in the Summa sector on the Karelian isthmus, scene of a week-long Soviet offensive, and declared that two assaults had been thrown back with the destruction of four enemy tanks.

The communique declared that several Red army divisions supported by "abundant artillery" took part in the assaults of Tuesday and Wednesday, and estimated enemy losses on Tuesday at "some thousands."

The pressure continued Wednesday, the communique said, "but with less power than on the previous day."

A Russian attempt to cross the frontier south of Raate was repulsed in the Suomussalmi sector in which "the enemy's losses were

Facts Given On Gift Broadcasts

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—(AP)—The Federal Communications Commission said today it had given the Justice Department "facts concerning" the Tum "Pot O' Gold" broadcast over the NBC chain, and a bakery program recently broadcast by two Texas stations.

"The commission has received complaints that these programs, which involve gifts of money by chance, violate section 316 of the Communications Act which prohibits the broadcasting of 'any advertisement or information concerning any lottery, gift enterprise or similar schemes,'" the announcement said.

The FCC turned the cases over to the Justice Department "for such action as that department deems necessary and warranted."

Suggestion Of A Reward As A Good Debtor

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—(AP)—Bi-partisan Senate support developed today for a proposal that the United States lend Finland $5,891,000—the amount of her war debt payments—to purchase any supplies needed to fight the Russians.

Additional non-military aid to the little Baltic republic appeared likely when Senate leaders scheduled consideration of a bill to double the $100,000,000 capital of the export-import bank.

Senator Brown (D-Mich.) is author of the loan legislation.

Brown's Republican colleague, Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, told reporters that Finland should receive "some definite reward as a good debtor." In the projected non-military advance, he said, "We are just giving them three cheers for paying their debts."

A proposal for an unrestricted loan of $30,000,000 to Finland was defeated yesterday in the Foreign Relations committee. Democratic Leader Barkley declared that a direct loan "might contravene our foreign policy."

Touched Off Spat

The Finnish-Russian hostilities touched off a spat in the House yesterday over an appropriation for maintenance of the United States embassy in Moscow. The money was retained in a supply bill by a margin of only three votes—108 to 105.

In addition to the Export-Import Bank bill, the Senate scheduled consideration of a measure by Senator Harrison (D-Miss) calling on the Securities Commission to expedite registration of any Finnish bonds issued for sale to private American investors.

Before the Finnish question could be taken up, however, the chamber had to dispose of the $1,139,000,000 independent offices bill.

The Senate overrode economy forces yesterday to add $1,000,000 to funds for the Civil Aeronautics authority.

The House leadership planned to dispose of the $107,000,000 appropriation bill for the State, Commerce and Justice Departments, and then act on a measure authorizing the president to put a score of government agencies, including the TVA and the RFC, under Civil Service.

Might Disband Silver Shirts

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—(AP)—William Dudley Pelley testified today that if the Dies committee continued its investigation of un-American activities his Silver Shirts Legion would "fold up."

Pelly, whose group has been called "fascist" by the committee, told the House investigators that conditions, as far as un-American activities were concerned, had improved in the last few years.

He attributed much of the improvement to the work of the Dies committee.

"Do you mean that if the Dies committee continues its investigation," asked Rep. Thomas (R-NJ), "that the Silver Legion will fold up?"

"Yes sir, and with my blessings," Pelley promptly replied. He had testified yesterday that the aim of the Silver Shirts paralleled that of the committee in that both were against un-American activities.

Sizzlin' Hot Cakes Be In Abundance On Pancake Day

Tables and chairs were being moved into the McGrath building, on the west side of Ohio avenue, between Third and Fourth streets, Wednesday, in preparation for the opening of Pancake Day, Tuesday, February 13. Claude Campbell, chairman of the arrangement committee reports stoves and other equipment will be installed in plenty of time for his "famous" cooks to be in readiness to make delicious pancakes.

Men Cooks Make Ready

A number of his cooks, Charles Van Dyne, Charles O. Botz, D. S. Lamm, I. H. Reed, Fred Kueck and Ellsworth Green stole a march on some of the other cooks by visiting the recent cooking school. However Mr. Campbell says that some of his best cooks, among whom are Guy Callender, Henry R. Harris, William R. Courtney, Tom Cloney, Fred F. Wesner and Paul Hedderich are getting their instructions from their wives at their own homes, and will be in the pink of condition for the event. Added to the pancake will be tasty syrup, golden brown sausages and good coffee. For the kiddies there will be plenty of milk on hand.

Glenn Neely, making arrangements for the tables and chairs, says you won't have to stand up and eat for there will be plenty of chairs for everyone.

One of the contestants in the pancake eating contest will be W. E. Ragar, of Ionia, who says he is going to be close to the winner if not the winner.

Members of the Sedalia Garden club are to have pancakes at 9 o'clock that morning together and the Lions club is changing its meeting date from Wednesday to Tuesday, and the hour from 12 to 1, to 11 to 12, that they may go in a body and eat pancakes.

Public Power Is An Investment

The United States is in the power business in a big way. Millions of dollars have been spent for dams and reclamation projects, and billions of kilowatt hours of electric power have been turned out by Uncle Sam.

When the United States first became interested in public power, there was a lot of talk that private utility companies wouldn't like it. Big Business, it was pretty generally agreed, certainly didn't relish the idea of having Uncle Sam as a competitor. The old gentleman with the red, white, and blue pants was not cut out to be a business man.

A recent survey by Washington Columnist Bruce Catton demonstrates that maybe Big Business and the utilities don't mind so much after all. Private industry, including power companies, has turned out to be the best customer for the government's public power.

* * *

Take a look at some of the larger federal power projects: More than one-third of the power harnessed by TVA is being bought by the Aluminum Company of America. The same company, not so very long ago, signed a 20-year contract to buy a considerable slice of the power generated at the Bonneville dam in Oregon.

Bonneville, in fact, is pretty much dependent on private industry. The management is about to sign up with another private company—a steel firm—which will buy power at the rate of 30,000 kilowatts for the next 20 years.

Boulder Dam, on the other hand, proved to be the Good Samaritan that saved Southern California Edison, when drouth cut off that firm's normal hydro-electric supply. Southern California Edison and Nevada-California Edison together buy 9 percent of the output at Boulder.

The entrance of the federal government on the power scene hasn't exactly hurt private enterprise, if statistics are any indication. Eight years ago, Uncle Sam was producing five billion kilowatt hours and private industry 77 billion. Two years ago, public production had jumped to nearly 10 billion, but private utilities were turning out 104 billion. And while the Rural Electrification Administration brought electricity to 400,000 farm homes during the last five years, private companies added 600,000 new rural customers in the same period.

* * *

"Okay," says the Little Man. "So I'm paying taxes for Uncle Sam to build dams to sell power to private companies who sell it back to me just as they've always done. Where do I come in?"

The government thought of that when it set out on its power program. It was figured out this way: Where there's power, new industries will flock to take advantage of it. And that happens to be the way it's working out. The larger government dams serve huge areas—sometimes several states. And in many of these sections, Big Business has brought in new industries, providing new jobs, bringing in new wealth for the communities.

It will take a little while to determine precisely how Uncle Sam's adventure in the utility field will work out. So far it hasn't been so bad at all—it looks as if everyone is going to be happy eventually.

A woman, who charged her husband with non-support, was herself jailed until she paid the cost of court action. Gentlemen are advised not to mistake this as a sign of the approaching millennium.

It Might Have Been

The infant republic of the United States didn't know about Fascists, Nazis, and Communists back in 1810. Had the people of that distant era been able to foresee the events of today, they might have given more serious consideration to the following proposed constitutional amendment, approved by Congress but rejected by enough states to kill it:

"If any citizen of the United States shall accept, claim, receive or retain any title of nobility or honor, or shall, without the consent of Congress, accept and retain any present, pension, office or emolument of any kind whatever, from any emperor, king, prince or foreign power, such person shall cease to be a citizen of the United States and shall be incapable of holding any office of trust or profit under them or either of them."

Had the amendment passed 130 years ago, it might have proved a bit tough for modern heiresses who collect foreign titles and who value their American citizenship.

But it would have been a lot tougher for the boys and girls who get their orders and their pay checks from Hitler and Stalin and who cling tenaciously to the benevolent protection Uncle Sam gives his citizens.

Finns Know How to Eat

The Finns have learned that if one eats properly, he can lick a bear—especially a Russian bear.

The whole secret of the amazing Finnish resistance against the weight of Soviet force lies in the fact that the Finns have the highest standards of nutrition of any country in the world, according to Michael J. Walsh, diet expert of the University of California extension division.

Apparently when the Finnish soldiers were little boys they ate their vegetables and drank their milk without complaining; and when they grew up, they continued to eat their vegetables and drink their milk until they were strong enough to stop Russian divisions dead in their tracks.

Tragedy, however, even the sturdiest of warriors can't stand up against a high explosive bomb dropped from an airplane. In ground fighting, they may be very nearly invincible. Under the ghastly savagery of an air raid, even the healthiest must perish.

• The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson and Robert S. Allen

WASHINGTON—Don't be surprised if the searching of American ships by the British brings on searching of British ships by the Americans.

Pro-British as our State Department usually is, it has just about decided that the best way of dealing with British delays of American shipping is to adopt the same tactics.

What has brought the thing to a head is the belief that the British are holding up American ships at Gibraltar in order to favor the Italians. In other words, foreign shippers are discovering that Italian vessels get by British inspectors far more quickly, and are switching their trade from American to Italian bottoms.

Result: British ships entering New York harbor now may be held up for a week or more of U. S. inspection.

American laws, the British should remember, are very strict about hiding arms on foreign vessels. Furthermore, the usual lifeboat inspection, together with the testing of bulkhead doors, etc., may take either a few hours or a few days, depending upon the inspector.

The United States held up the SS Bremen for a couple of days of inspection, admittedly to help the British. So there is no reason why such inspection could not be used to help the U. S.

Finally, the United States can throw various delays in the way of delivery of American airplanes to the British. The length of these delays apparently will depend chiefly upon the delays to American vessels which pass Gibraltar en route to the Mediterranean.

FDR, Jr.

Another unrecorded sidelight of the move star-studded President's Birthday Ball was a spirited debate between Franklin Roosevelt, Jr., and Tyrone Power on the merits of wearing "pink coats" on fox hunts.

Young Roosevelt, who lives in the fox-and-hounds country at Charlottesville, Virginia, took the negative side, and spent the better part of his mother's luncheon for the visiting screen celebrities trying to tear down Power's arguments.

The film star couldn't understand why in a place like Virginia, which sets such store by tradition, the horsey set almost had dispensed with he wearing of the traditional bright pink jackets.

"I hear you wear them only twice a year," he observed, "Thanksgiving and New Year's. Why is that?"

"Well, personally I think they're something of a nuisance," explained young Roosevelt. "Besides, they scare the cattle and farmers wouldn't let us ride over their land if we wore them all the time."

Finland's Waist

Press cables from Finland, always carefully censored, stress fighting along the Karelian front. This is the narrow peninsula between Lake Ladoga and the Gulf of Finland, very close to Leningrad, where the Mannerheim Line has held back the Russian attach.

However, the censors have said almost nothing recently about the tremendous Russian thrust against the "waist" of Finland. This is the long border of Finland and Russia which stretches north toward the Arctic.

Here, it is reported, Russia is amassing large numbers of trained troops in an effort to break through into the heart of Finland. Since Finland is narrow, Soviet strategy is to cut the country in two. With part of the Finnish army kept busy in Karelia, it will be difficult for the Finns to resist this new drive.

This massing movement was the inside reason for Finland's recent suggestion of an honorable peace. Despite all the gay U. S. parties for promoting Finnish relief, very little in actual war supplies has been received by Finland. Her situation is desperate.

Liberal Conference

The much-ballyhooed conference of Western Liberals will not take place. It was killed at an Inner Circle meeting which included Harold Ickes, Tom Corcoran, Ben Cohen, Assistant Attorney General Littell, Assistant Secretary of Labor Dimock, Assistant Secretary of the Interior Oscar Chapman, and Director of Government Reports Lowell Mellett.

They decided that if any Liberal conference was to be held, it should be held for the entire U. S. A., not merely the West. But the Inner Circle also decided that it was probably best not to put the liberals out on the firing line by holding a conference of any kind.

At his State Department reception Cordell Hull made sure that his guests would not have to tip for coat-checking. When Under Secretary Welles left the reception, the hotel's check girl rejected a proffered quarter, saying, "Thank you, sir, but we're not allowed to receive tips today." . . . Vanquished Poland is still paying service charges on a credit of more that $3,000,000 extended a year ago by U. S. Export-Import Bank . . . Of the Bank's $25,000,000 credit to China made a year ago, only 16 millions have been disbursed . . Senator Claude Pepper of Florida has three live alligators in his office . . . No diplomat has drawn such a crowd of prying newsmen into the State Department corridors as Soviet Ambassador Oumansky when he called to see Hull the other day.

Garner's March Through Georgia

Backstage influence in Jack Garner's decision to go into the Georgia primary was a group of bitter Roosevelt haters. They wanted to keep the President from controlling the Georgia convention at the Democratic National Convention.

If you call the roll of the Garner backers in Georgia you will get some idea as to whether they were chiefly pro-Garner or chiefly anti-Roosevelt. Here are the men who persuaded the Vice President to file:

1. Senator Walter George, whom Roosevelt attempted to purge in 1938.

2. W. T. Anderson, editor of The Macon Telegraph and one of Roosevelt's bitterest critics.

3. Ex-Governor Eugene Talmadge, long a leader of the anti-Roosevelt forces.

4. Ex-Senator and ex-Governor Thomas Hardwicke, another leader of the anti-Roosevelt legion.

5. Edgar B. Dunlap, who was ousted as counsel of the RFC in 1938 when it was discovered that he was manager for Senator George. Dunlap is now promoting Garner's entry into the Georgia primary.

Despite the efforts of this group, Georgia is almost sure to come to the Democratic convention with an uninstructed delegation. Governor Rivers made this plain to close friends while he was in Washington for the Democratic National Committee meeting. Furthermore, Governor Rivers told the President personally that the Georgia delegation would be for Roosevelt for a third term, if Roosevelt wanted their support.

"You may have learned how to cook it, but I don't know how to spell it, so it's not going on the menu."

DALE CARNEGIE

Author of "How To Win Friends And Influence People"

This column today is about a boy who didn't get much schooling. Much? The third grade. That was all. Yet he has managed to get along pretty well. He makes nearly as much money now in 3 months as the President of the United States makes in a year. Wallace Beery, the son of a Kansas City policeman.

He left school and ran away as a boy hobo sleeping in box cars and hobo jungles and riding on freight trains.

He heard through a friend that his running away had hurt his mother deeply, so he came back and got a job as engine wiper in a railroad roundhouse.

He was content with this job and expected to be a railroad man the rest of his life. But a letter changed everything. The letter was from his brother who had left school, too, and got a job with the Ringling Brothers Circus. He said that if Wallace wanted to give up his engine wiping job and come to the circus he would try to find work for him. Wallace did not even wait to get his pay, he told them to send it to his mother. That night he started hoboing his way to the circus. His brother introduced him to the manager of the circus and Wallace got the job of watering and feeding the elephants—at $3.50 a week.

Later, when he was making one thousand times as much per week, he said that he had felt richer on his circus salary than he ever had since.

He still loves elephants, and whenever a circus comes to town, he goes straight to the menagerie and spends the afternoon with the elephants and their trainers.

He became an elephant-trainer, and thought himself settled for life. Then he received a letter from his brother, Noah, which upset his world. The letter said that he (Noah) was making $18.50 a week acting on the stage in New York.

As Wallace Beery held that letter in his hand, he decided to become an actor. He knew nothing whatever about the stage and had never taken part in amateur theatricals. But he gave up his job, borrowed some money, and told his friends that he was going to New York to become an actor!

The amazing thing is that he got a job in the theatre—as chorus man! Yet he had never taken a dancing lesson in his life.

The show was "Babes in Toyland" and he was chosen principally because he had a deep voice. He was so big and clumsy that the other chorus men called him "Jumbo" the only name known to them.

He achieved success principally because he cashed in on his shortcomings, playing parts where he is not supposed to be educated—roles where he is lumbering — and it has made him a world success.

He cashed in on his liabilities. It isn't difficult to cash in on your assets, but it takes initiative, persistence and courage to cash in on your liabilities. Can you do it?

Net cost of the World War to the United States was $27,600,000 a day. Including loans to the allies, the sum rises to $38,500,000 daily.

THE CAPTAIN'S DAUGHTER

BY HELEN WORDEN

COPYRIGHT, 1940, NEA SERVICE, INC.

YESTERDAY: Dan sets out to find Marie, has a bitter word battle with Bat on board the Molly. Dan's calm announcement that he wants to marry Marie infuriates her father. Then, suddenly alarmed by Marie's absence from work, Bat tries to enlist Dan's help in finding her. But Dan is already far down the pier.

CHAPTER XIV

LYNDA MARTIN got up in time to have breakfast with her father Thursday morning.

"Anything wrong, baby?" he inquired when he saw her sweeping into the breakfast room, a vision in a foam green chiffon negligee. "We haven't had breakfast together since Christmas."

She smiled and kissed him. "Stop teasing me. I just felt like having a nice early morning visit with you." She sat down in a chair opposite him. "You're such a busy man, I never have a chance to really talk with you."

James Martin beamed. He was very fond of his only child, and it pleased him to have her want to be with him.

"How would you like a little holiday with me? I've got to go to South America on a business trip in a couple of weeks."

Like so many American men of his type, Martin had a matter-of-fact, well-cared for face, a little too self-indulgent, perhaps, about the small, shrewd blue eyes, but generally benign. Fifty-five, he delighted in telling the men under him in the vast grocery chain store company which he headed, that he still felt like a kid of 21.

As a boy he had boxed in amateur bantam bouts at the Athletic Club. He still belonged to the Athletic Club though Lynda and his sister-in-law, Mrs. William Martin, were always trying to persuade him to shift his patronage to the Racquet and Tennis. Ordinarily indulgent, as far as Lynda was concerned, he drew the line there. He never felt quite at ease with the Racquet and Tennis Club fellows, although, as he often told himself, he could buy and sell them all out, half a dozen times, and never miss the money.

Lynda poured a generous amount of cream over a crystal dish of hothouse raspberries the butler set before her. "Ordinarily I'd love to go with you Daddy," she hesitated prettily, "but right now, well—I'll tell you a little later."

He looked at her sharply. "What's up?"

"Oh, nothing." She sprinkled the raspberries with powdered sugar. "Mr. Donovan was here last night and you weren't in."

Amazement spread over Martin's face. "Mike Donovan—what did he want?"

"Oh, he was just calling." Lynda smiled. "What do you think of his son?"

* * *

EVER since Mike Donovan had told her the night before that his son, Dan, intended to ask her to be his wife, Lynda had been walking on air. While her first impulse was to rush and tell her father, her second was to hold back.

But meanwhile she wanted the way paved. She was not entirely certain how her father felt about the Donovans. She knew he had been on the opposing side in several business deals with Mike. She also knew that the Martins were a pace ahead of the Donovans socially. Still, Mike Donovan was a very rich man, perhaps even richer than her father.

"What do you think of Dan Donovan, Daddy?" she repeated.

But Mr. Martin did not hear. The phone was ringing.

"For you, sir," said the butler, "your office is calling."

He hurried out of the room.

"I asked you what you thought of Dan Donovan, Daddy," she pouted when he returned, "and you didn't answer."

"Oh, yes. Well he's all right, I guess," Martin answered abstractedly. "Sorry, pet, I have to rush off sooner than I expected." He gulped his coffee. "We'll talk about young Donovan another time."

Lynda finished her breakfast and went back to bed but she could not rest. She had slept little the night before thinking of Dan. She wanted to believe, more than anything else in the world, that Dan would marry her and yet, in her heart of hearts, she doubted the truth of his father's words. Tossing on her bed, she dug her beautiful long-pointed fingernails into the palms of her little hands. Maybe Dan didn't want to marry her, but after all, he might not have much to say about it. His father was on her side, which was something. A tap on the door broke in on her thoughts.

"What is it?" she called.

"Mr. Donovan, Miss Lynda," the butler said.

"Mr. Daniel Donovan?" She jumped out of bed.

"No, his father, Mr. Michael Donovan."

The corners of her mouth turned down, then up again. "Very well, Perkins. Tell him I'll see him in a few minutes." She rang for her maid.

* * *

WAITING for Lynda, Mike Donovan paced the floor fretfully, formulating his plans. Not yet fully recovered from the quarrel he and Bat had on the barge pier, he mumbled to himself every few minues, "His girl not good enough for my boy. Well, we'll see."

His first impulse when he left the pier was to go back home and tell Dan what he thought of a girl who had a father like Bat La Porte. But he changed his mind. Instead he gave Dan the benefit of his opinion over the phone, then hurried on to see Lynda.

He was so excited that he hardly knew what he would say when he did find her except to repeat that he wanted Dan to marry her, but now, schemes were formulating in his mind. He would not only give his approval of the match but he would help Lynda land Dan.

Mike held out his hand as Lynda entered the room. "You and I are becoming pretty good friends, my dear."

Looking pale and helpless in a soft blue crepe, she put both her hands in his. "I'm so glad you've come. Tell me about Dan.'

He drew up a chair near hers. "That's just why I'm here again," he began. "I want to give that little dinner tonight for you and Danny . . ."

A discreet cough interrupted them.

"The afternoon paper, Miss Lynda." Perkins handed it to her apologetically. "I didn't know but what you and Mr. Donovan would want to see it first."

She stared at the butler. "What on earth," she began, then stopped as her eyes caught the headlines. "Look, Mr. Donovan," she cried nervously. "This is about Dan."

* * *

TOGETHER they read every word of the story of the fight between Dan and Tommy Ryan over Marie. Lynda reached for her handkerchief.

"Oh, this is too terrible," she exclaimed.

Mike's cheeks puffed up like a porpoise. "The damned scoundrels," he bellowed, "printing such things as this about my son. Where in thunderation did they get it?"

But as he talked he recalled the court attendant's warning of the night before. He also remembered the reporters standing near the judge's desk.

Lynda spoke sharply. "Then it isn't true?"

Mike choked. "I wouldn't say it all was."

Lynda buried her face in her handkerchief.

"There, there, my dear," Mike patted her on the shoulder. "I hope you'll stand by Dan."

Lynda nodded. "Yes, I will."

Society And Clubs

A pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Weichen, south of Smithton, at 5:30 o'clock Saturday evening when Miss Hulda Weichen, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Henry Weichen became the bride of Raymond Anderson, son of Mrs. Mary Anderson and the late Park Anderson, of the Flat Creek community. The ceremony was read by Rev. E. L. Rathert, pastor of the Lake Creek Methodist church.

Attending the couple were George Anderson, nephew of the bridegroom and Miss Wilma Baugh.

The wedding march was played by the sister of the bride, Mrs. Louis Schlobohm and the bride's niece, Miss Marian Weichen sang "I Love You Truly," and "O Promise Me."

The bride's dress was blue pebble crepe, trimmed in satin.

A wedding supper was served to twenty-five immediate relatives and friends of both families at the Edgar Weichen home.

The couple will make their home on the bride's farm in the Lake Creek community.

The Sew-A-Bit club had a very delightful dinner party at 12:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon when members gathered for the annual turkey dinner at the home of Mrs. C. A. McNeil, 1123 West Seventh street, where the dinner is held each year in February. Mrs. McNeil furnished the turkey while the other members brought covered dishes.

The table was beautiful in its Valentine motif. Crystal candle holders with white tapers were at each end with a bouquet of red carnations in the center. Heart shaped nut baskets with placecards were at each place.

Cut flowers were in abundance about the home.

In the afternoon Mrs. Sterling Davis, a recent bride was given a shower by the members and received many lovely gifts. Mrs. Davis was before her marriage Miss Bettina Cannaday.

Special guests were Mrs. John Fowler and Mrs. Minnie Alcorn. The members present were Mrs. Ed Hildebrandt, Mrs. A. Griffey, Mrs. Robert Phelan, Mrs. R. R. Highleyman, Mrs. H. Seifert, Mrs. J. E. Cannaday, Mrs. C. Carter, Mrs. Nan Knight, Mrs. George Chambers, Mrs. Fred Shaffer, Mrs. Undrill Renshaw, Mrs. Davis and Mrs. McNeil.

Church Events

The Friendship Class of Fifth Street Methodist church held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. A. Maxwell of 2000 West Broadway.

A most interesting business session was held during which plans were made for the annual birthday supper to be held, the date to be announced later.

After the business session a social time was enjoyed during which delicious refreshments in keeping with the season were served by Mrs. Maxwell and her assistant hostesses who were Mrs. L. J. May, Mrs. Brooks Wade and Mrs. Amanda Close.

The next meeting the first Tuesday in March to be at the home of Mrs. Ella Hoffman.

Child Bound in Artistic Straitjacket Will Lose Instinct For Creative Effort

BY OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

"I don't want you to drum those silly songs," says mother. "They are only trash. Keep to your etudes. Classical music is the only thing worth while."

"I'm only making up the airs, mother," says Susan. "I like to try and play catchy things I hear on the radio. It's such fun to pick out tunes."

"That's bad, too. You must learn to read music and execute it. Technique is what counts.

"I hate all music," declares Susan suddenly. "It's all work and no fun and I think it's stuffy."

"Then you'll never make a musician and that would be a sad disappointment to me and your grandmother. We've been a fine musical family and we expect you to keep it up."

"But, mother, isn't there such a thing as music making you happy? Just happy? I love melody. And I was only playing "Sweet Mystery Of Life.' That's no trash."

"Oh, I declare, you're simply hopeless, child. You waste time and time is so precious. I simply forbid your playing anything so trivial in my hearing again."

Well, Susan lost her interest in music. But little Joan thinks it's grander than ever. Let's see what happened in her house.

"What's that you're drumming now?" asks Joan's mother, throwing off her hat and dropping into a chair by the piano. "Go on. It sounds fine. I didn't know you had that piece."

Joan flushed. "I didn't know you were here, mother. I should have been practicing my sonatas. But you know, I do love catchy things. And when I can drum a little music that peps me up and makes me want to dance all over, then I seem to like all music more. Even the draggy old scales.

"Go on, dear. I want to hear some more."

"Well, that's all. I can't explain it, quite. But it's like Mr. Briggs, the schoolteacher. I think some days I'll never open my Cicero again, and maybe that's the very day he'll say, 'Let's be gay.'

"And that day we have so much fun with cranky old Cicero, who always had a chip on his shoulder, that I'm quite ready to go on. I like Mr. Briggs so much that day that I'll study my head off for him other times. Even old Cic has charm if you can see some fun in him."

"You go right on, then, and make up your music, child. As long as you keep one ear open for the best masters and don't overdo the lighter things, I am satisfied," says mother.

Joan's Mother Understands

"You see, I am that way about books. I read all the improving things I can get. But once in a while I get hungry for a good rattle-bang detective story or a sentimental love tale. I would get very fed up with only the fine things. I am not so solid on brain that I can't enjoy a thrill, too.

"Your little diversion on music may lead to something creative. Who knows? And maybe you are just being you, after all. The minute any art becomes distasteful to a student through its dullness, then the thing's usually over, for good. After a while I think you'll learn to discriminate, and then you'll naturally love the best music."

Legion Auxiliary Plans Shows

As an Americanism feature, the American Legion auxiliary of Post 16 will sponsor five night shows at the Liberty theatre soon. The proceeds will be used to purchase American flags for Girl Scout troops. The plan was decided at a meeting of the auxiliary Tuesday afternoon.

There are 12 Girl Scout troops that don't have American flags and they will be given to them after the troops have earned their troop flags, Mrs. E. W. Richardson, president of the auxiliary said. She is working in cooperation with Miss Marian Phipps, director of the Girl Scouts here.

The dates selected are February 18, 19, 20, 21 and 22.

A George Washington party on the night of February 21 in the Woodman-Maccabee hall is also being planned by the auxiliary.

Health Work Stressed By County Nurse

Child Development Chairmen Of Clubs To Participate Also

At a meeting for child development chairmen of the Home Economic Extension Clubs, Miss Reba Gum, county health nurse discussed the first requirement of Missouri Blue Ribbon Babies, that of birth registration. The purpose of a child development chairmen in each club is to help in every way possible to develop into happier, healthier children not only the young people of the club women but all young people in the community. These chairmen are urged to assist every mother in receiving literature on child health and training.

In the past few years in Pettis county clinics for school and preschool children have been emphasized. This year emphasis is being placed on birth registrations for every season. All children born in Missouri since January 1, 1934 are entitled to a free certificate of notification of birth registration. Others may secure their certificate from the State Board of Health upon the payment of a fee specified by law.

Each child development chairman with the assistance of her club members is expected to help secure a birth certificate for every young person in the community.

At the invitation of Clint Davis, chairman of the crippled children's committee of the county, these chairmen are also planning to work closely with that committee in helping the less fortunate children.

Those serving are: Mrs. C. E. Wells, Mrs. Irvin Vogelsmeier, Mrs. William T. Harper, Mrs. Geo. Anderson, Mrs. S. G. Monsees, Mrs. C. M. Ferguson, Mrs. F. D. Wolfe, Mrs. E. W. A LOT LOWER PRICED THAN MOST PEOPLE THINK!

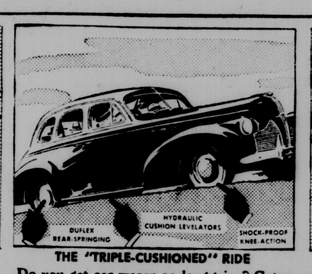
9 OUT OF 10
A recent national survey shows 9 out of 10 people think a Pontiac costs an average of $100 more than it actually does in relation to lower-priced cars. Don't let this mistaken idea keep you from investigating Pontiac. Don't buy any low-priced car until you compare its price with a Pontiac. The slight difference will amaze you.

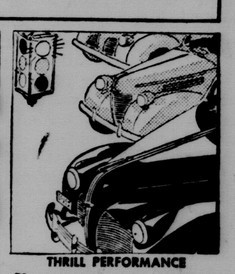
HERE'S WHY SO MANY THINK PONTIAC HIGHER PRICED THAN IT ACTUALLY IS!

BIG CAR DIMENSIONS AND APPEARANCE
Add a few dollars to the price of the lowest priced cars and get a big Pontiac. 4 inches wider at front seat, 8½ inches longer from bumper to bumper than last year!



THE "TRIPLE-CUSHIONED" RIDE
Do you get car weary on long trips? Get a Pontiac and relax. Pontiac's "Triple-Cushioned" ride is worth all the slight difference between Pontiac and lowest-priced cars.

EXQUISITE, WIDE-VISIONED INTERIORS
Ever wish your car were larger? Pay a few extra dollars and get a Pontiac. It's wider-seated, wider-visioned with Hi-Test Safety Plate Glass in all sedans.



THRILL PERFORMANCE
You only have to go to the first traffic light to sample the thrill performance in Pontiac's power-packed engine.

IT IS DIFFICULT to make people realize that Pontiac is priced just a few dollars above the lowest.

They simply haven't been accustomed to associating low price with a car that has the reputation, looks, size, luxury and performance of cars costing up to several hundred dollars higher.

Come in and take a look at this sensational new money's-worth of motor car. See how much bigger and roomier it is. And don't leave without trying its new "Triple-Cushioned" ride and the flashing performance of its power-packed Pontiac engine.

For the best ride on four wheels and the best miles of your life, get a 1940 Pontiac!

Program For Soils, Crops Conference Is Announced

Results Of Using Reliable Practices Will Be Discussed By County Delegates

Results of using recommended soils and crops practices in Pettis county will be discussed at the Sixteenth Annual Soils and Crops Conference to be held in the Assembly Room of the Court House on Friday, February 16. George R. Wilkerson, chairman of the conference, has announced that these reports on recent experiences will serve as a working basis for the day's program.

The following program will give some idea of how the day will be spent in working on plans best adapted to Pettis county conditions. William J. Lamm, registrar for this year's conference is urging every delegate and visitor to be ready to register by 9:45 a. m. so the program can start promptly at 10:00.

Conference Program

The conference program which will start in the Assembly Room of the Court House is as follows:

Directors Of Farm Bureau Have Meeting

'Definite Steps' To Encourage 4-H Work In County Planned

The February meeting of the board of directors of the Pettis county Farm Bureau was held in the Farm Bureau office on Saturday. Mrs. P. S. Read, home and community committee chairman, named Mrs. J. A. DeJarnette, Mrs. G. D. Ferguson, Mrs. S. W. McClure and Miss Dorothy Bacon as the members of her committee and announced that there would be a meeting of county Farm Bureau Home and Community committees at Columbia on February 19 and 20.

It was suggested that the Pettis county farm bureau take some definite step in encouraging the 4-H club program in the county. After suggestions as to the way to do this, the matter was referred to the Home and Community committee to investigate and make a definite report at the next meeting of the action to be taken.

Student Loan Fund

The Farm Bureau contributed to the student loan fund for the use of freshmen from Farm Bureau families that enroll in the University of Missouri.

The date of the April meeting of the board was changed to April 10 to correspond to the time that President R. W. Brown of the Missouri Bureau Federation could be present for a county conference on the work to be accomplished in the coming year. All chairmen and their committees were urged to be present at this meeting and all Farm Bureau members are invited.

George V. Sneed and J. U. Morris were appointed as a committee to investigate the cost of signs for the Farm Bureau and Extension Office.

Agricultural work done by the extension service in January as reported by J. U. Morris, county extension agent, included 16 meetings in regard to the 1940 Agricultural Conservation Program, community committee and training meetings in regard to this program, conferences at Clinton and Springfield about this activity and an explanation of the grant of aid by means of which farmers may buy limestone with the cost deducted from the 1940 Agricultural Conservation payment.

Dairy School Starts

The conclusion of the Poultry School and the start of a Dairy School were mentioned as well as the annual meetings of the District Holstein-Friesion Association and the Seventh Jersey Parish.

Results of state-wide agricultural contests sponsored by the Kansas City and St. Louis Chamber of Commerce showed that Olen Monsees, Smithton, was second in this district in the Pasture Improvement Contest; Leonard McClure, Hughesville, was seventh in the Pork Production contest; C. A. Wingate, Sedalia, route 3, was second in the fat calf division of the beef production contest; and Bois d'Arc Farm, Hughesville, was sixth in the feeder yearling division of the beef production contest.

Miss Dorothy Bacon, home demonstration agent, told of training meetings in child development, refinishing of furniture and parliamentary procedure, as well as a dramatics training day with Mr. J. S. Knapp of the National Recreation Association. Attendance at home economics extension club meetings, giving meat canning demonstrations, attending community associations and assisting in planning community association yearly programs were other activities.

4-H Work Reviewed

4-H club work as reviewed by W. J. Murphy, assistant county agent, included the quarterly meeting of the 4-H club council, organizing community 4-H clubs in the Houstonia, Quisenberry and Ionia communities, attendance at 4-H club meetings at Smithton and Flat Creek and a conference with Miss Helen Church, state 4-H club agent.

The next meeting of the board of directors of the Farm Bureau will be at 1:30 p. m. in March 2.

Beef Production Contest Winners

(STAFF ENGRAVING)

Here are the three men responsible for the first place award given G. G. Guenther and Son of Versailles, in the Finished Yearling Division of a Beef Production contest. From left they are: Reed Guenther, G. G. Guenther and Ross Vogt with one of their prize steers. Vogt cared for the feeding of the cattle.

Versailles Beef Raisers Win Prize For Finished Yearlings

G. G. Guenther and Son of Versailles, have been announced as winners of first place in the Finished Yearling Division of a Beef Production contest for the western division of Missouri.

They were honored at a meeting of over 200 livestock men, business men, agricultural journalists and representatives of Colleges of Agriculture from both Kansas and Missouri. The meeting, sponsored by the Kansas City Chamber of Commerce, was held last Friday in Kansas City. That organization and the St. Louis Chamber of Commerce sponsored beef production, pork production and pasture improvement contests throughout Missouri and Kansas in 1939.

$100 For First Place

Prizes totaling $7,500 will be distributed to the winners in the various divisions. First place in each of the three divisions of the Beef Production contest carrys an award of $100. Winners in the other two divisions in the Beef Production contest in Missouri are: H. A. Young, Greencastle, first in Creep Fed calves and the Spring Creek Ranch, Greencastle, first in the Feeder Cattle division.

Awards in the Pork Production and Pasture contests had previously been made but the names of these winners were also read at the noon hour luncheon and those who were present were asked to stand as their names were read and receive recognition along with the Beef Production winners. W. A. Sharples and Son, Barnett, Mo., another Morgan county entry, won third place in the East Central division of the pasture contest.

Those attending the meeting from Morgan county were Reed Guenther, Versailles; Neil Sharples, Barnett and the county extension agent, H. G. Crawford, Versailles.

The story would not be complete without a word about the successful way in which Guenther handled his steers to win this contest. Guenther has the biggest part of his 260-acre farm in grass and hay crops. Therefore, he handles his cattle in such a way as to utilize the maximum amount of grass and roughage.

Steers Bought Late In 1938

The 55 steer calves which were entered in this contest were purchased in November, 1938, and averaged 457 pounds. About half of these were bought in Morgan and Camden counties and the other half in Sullivan county. They were wintered in a dry lot, being fed principally on a roughage of clover and timothy hay and oat hay that was cut on the Guenther farm. They received an allowance of about two and one-half pounds of corn a day and a little less than a pound of a protein supplement of cotton seed cake per day. They were turned out on grass on April 9 and no further dry feed was given until July.

These steers were given excess to four pastures, making a total of about 94 acres which may be described as follows: 19 acres of good stand of timothy with a stand of lespedeza reseeding itself; 35 acres of thin stand timothy with a good stand of lespedeza reseeding itself; 20 acres of timothy and red clover and 20 acres of fairly good bluegrass pasture.

(STAFF ENGRAVING)

G. G. Guenther, of Versailles, whose 55 steer calves were raised to fine size by his thorough yet practical feeding methods.

They had an abundance of pasture throughout the season and made excellent gains on the grass. It was noted in the early part of the season that the steers grazed on timothy and clover fields a major part of the time but as the lespedeza came on they grazed on the fields that had the better stands of lespedeza.

The excellent weight gains are due in a large measure to the high productivity of the soil. All but a few acres of this pasture have been in the regular crop rotation on the Guenther farm and most of it has been limed. Fertilizers have been consistently used with the small grain crops.

Started On Grain Feed

The cattle were started on a grain feed of corn with a protein supplement of cotton seed cake on July 18. They were gradually worked up to about all the grain they would consume. However, they did not consume a large quantity due to the excellent grazing until the latter part of the feeding period, when the lespedeza began to fail.

These cattle were marketed on October 25. Twenty-six of the steers averaging 1,000 opunds, brought $9.35 per 100 pounds and 28 steers, averaging 830 pounds, brought $9.75 per 100 pounds. (One steer died in March.)

Summarizing, these steers made an average gain of 453½ pounds in the 330 days that they were on the Guenther farm. The average feed consumed per day was 700 pounds of oat hay, 833 pounds of clover and timothy hay, 29.7 bushels of corn and 118 pounds of cotton seed cake.

Second Dairy School Class Next Monday

Missouri College Of Agriculture Expert To Lead Discussion

The second session of the Dairy School being held for Pettis county dairymen will be in the Farm Bureau office on Monday, February 12, from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m. Breeding problems will be the general topic at this meeting with A. F. Stephens, extension dairyman of the Missouri College of Agriculture, leading the discussion.

The first period of this school, conducted on February 1 by M. J. Regan, extension dairyman, and attended by 35 dairmen, dealt primarily with feeding the dairy cow and calf.

A study of the digestive system of the cow illustrated the digestion of feeds and served as a guide as to the way to get the most from feeds. It was shown that it is not advantageous to have grain finely ground, not only because of the extra cost of grinding but because extremely fine material passes through the second and third stomachs without the proper processing, resulting in unused feed.

Most Satisfactory Grain

Medium coarse ground grain has proven most satisfactory, grinding increasing the value of shelled corn some 30 per cent, according to Mr. Regan. The use of corn and cob meal is economical, not because of increased production but a decreased cost of preparation.

The digestion of roughage is more effective if that roughage is not finely ground, because finely ground roughage passes directly to the second stomach without being broken down by the bacteria in the first stomach.

This study of the digestion system also emphasized the danger from feeding frozen feeds and the advantage of water heaters in increasing milk production. The utilization of pastures was stressed, with a sweet clover and barley rotation being highly recommended as furnishing a large amount of high grade pasture distributed over a large part of the year. Small grain and lespedeza combinations and sudan grass as a summer pasture were also reviewed.

A simple method of working out a balanced grain ration for the cows, depending upon the type of roughage fed, was explained and illustrated by Mr. Regan so that the dairymen could take the feeds they had available and work out a balanced ration for their own herd. The need for minerals in these rations can be cheaply supplied by ground limestone, steamed bone meal, and salt.

Guide For Feeding

An approximate guide in the feeding of grain where sufficient roughage is supplied was said to be about one pound of grain for each three to four pounds of milk produced by Jerseys or Guernseys, while Holsteins require only one pound of grain for each four to five pounds of milk given.

Other items considered at this meeting included feeding the dairy calf, keeping cows cool and on good pasture in the summer so as to hold production up and the use of fly sprays. Oil type fly sprays now in common use close the pores of the cows, cause their temperature to raise, and thus result in a decline in milk production. For this reason fly sprays with a water base are desirable.

In addition to the second meeting on breeding problems the Dairy School will have a third session on March 4 in regard to diseases and common dairy husbandry practices with Dr. Uren, extension veternarian, as the discussion leader.

Pettis County Threatened By Chinch Bugs

Insect Infestation Survey Shows Cold Hasn't Killed Them

Surveys of insect infestation indicate that while Pettis County is in little danger from grasshoppers in 1940, it is due for one of its heaviest chinch bug infestations in years unless weather conditions next spring are unfavorable to the insects.

That the recent cold cannot be expected to have much effect in decreasing the number of these bugs is revealed by Leonard Haseman of the Missouri College of Agriculture, in naming some of the conditions affecting insect development.

While it is true that extreme conditions—either of heat or cold, rain or drouth — are Nature's method of helping even up populations, some insects have the ability to withstand these extremes better than most other creatures. Some breed naturally at temperatures approaching the freezing point, while others thrive at unbelieveably high temperatures. Most of them have the ability to go into that state of almost complete inactivity known as hibernation which protects them during the cold winter months.

Most native species of insects, like grasshoppers and cutworms, will stand cold better than the large list of imported pests, especially those coming from warmer regions, such as the San Jose scale, codling moth, cabbage worm and chinch bug. On the other hand, those pests which winter in the ground or under protection on the ground are now further protected by a warm blanket of snow.

When a blizzard strikes, the air temperature may be from 10 to 20 degrees lower than that of a grass clump covered with a few inchs of snow. The present swarms of hibernating chinch bugs, which can readily withstand actual temperatures some degrees below zero, are therefore snugly tucked away beneath grass and snow safe from sub-zero temperatures.

Food Easy To Digest Best For Colds

Rest And Sleep Are Also Valuable In Combating Germs

For that cold which hangs on—rest, sleep and easily digested foods are recommended. Colds and Flu are often contracted because of weariness or exhaustion, and frequently are accompanied by constipation.

At first a diet of laxative value is best—hot orangeade or lemonade, gruels and broths, with crisp toast, baked potatoes and mild vegetables should be the chief foods in the diet.

Colds take energy and especially when accompanied by fever, so within a few days after the cold seems to be "broken", a diet of higher energy value is recommended.

Fats Are Valuable

Fats, such as butter, cream, olive and cod liver oil, and bacon seem especially valuable as well as liberal amounts of milk, eggs, and fruit. Cod liver oil is to be advised for it is high in Vitamin A which in return has been found to shorten the duration of a cold as well as its frequency.

For the first few days, especially if the cold is severe, a liquid diet is advisable. The patient should stay in bed during this time.

Foods to include in the liquid diet are: tea with milk, albuminized lemonade or orangeade made by adding egg white to the drink, broth, cereals which have been cooked several hours, milk and fruit juices. Follow the liquid diet with a semi-solid diet which affords energy through easily digested foods.

Recommended Foods

Milk, fruit juices such as orange, lemon, prune, apricot, pineapple or tomato juice, broth, soft cooked eggs, souffles, toast, crackers, dry breads and custards, gelatins, junkets and blanc mange are recommended. Gradually one can add more solid foods to the diet. Broiled lamb bacon, baked potatoes, stewed tomatoes, stewed fruits such as apples, prunes, apricots, peaches and berries (without seeds) can be added as the cold gets better.

Few people seem to realize the importance of foods in the diet. Foods such as fats, fried food, starchy food and sweets are slow to digest. When the body is already taxed trying to overcome a cold is it poor judgment to eat rich, hard to digest foods. Cod liver oil should be taken daily by anyone with a cold and, for children, it is advisable all winter long.

Huge Valentine For President

HANNIBAL, Mo., Feb. 8—(AP) The largest Valentine ever sent by air mail will be the first piece of mail bearing the new 10-cent Mark Twain commemorative stamp.

The stamps will be cancelled by Postmaster James A. Farley here next Tuesday morning and the package will be on its way to President Roosevelt, an enthusiastic stamp collector. The giant valentine—34 by 25 inches and 4 inches thick—was designed and made by art students of the Hannibal high school.

At the same time the stamps, bearing a picture of Mark Twain, the town's most famous son, will go on sale here and Postmaster F. J. Schaul has estimated that first day sales would surpass $15,000.

Orders for more than 100,000 covers—stamped envelopes bearing the postoffice cancellation mark—already have been received from every state in the Union and several foreign countries, Postmaster Schaul said. The rush has necessitated the employment of eight extra clerks.

Farley will speak at a banquet at he Mark Twain hotel here Monday night.

Kennedy Be Fish Dinner Host

MEMPHIS, Mo., Feb. 8—(AP)—Pitcher Vernon Kennedy is a catcher too—a fish catcher.

Just to prove it, the St. Louis Browns hurler and former Warrensburg Teachers College athlete, is going to be host at a fish fry tonight to 100 persons—all over 75.

He first set the minimum age limit for guests at 80, but could find only 15 in the surrounding countryside who could qualify. The five-year reduction in age limit produced enough persons to eat all the fish Kennedy and his associates have managed to catch.

Even the waiters will be in the old-age bracket with Kennedy the only youngster present.

Volunteers To Finland Soon

LONDON, Feb. 8—(AP)—The first contingent of British volunteers may be off to Finland next week.

Unofficial reports said "hundreds" of applicants were being enrolled by the Finnish legation to leave as soon as possible.

Only men over 27 years old—outside the classes likely to be called this year for Britain's army—are free to go. The British government has taken no formal part in the work which is being supervised by Finns here.

British volunteers will be in addition to warplanes and other material already on the way from here to Finland.

'Mother Wise' Dies At Mexico

MEXICO, Mo., Feb. 8— (AP) — Mrs. M. R. Wise, who was known as "Mother Wise" on the University of Missouri campus, where she chaperoned the Phi Delta Phi legal fraternity for many years, died here yesterday.

At Columbia, stories of practical jokes played on her by prankish law students are favorites in fraternity "bull sessions."

One of the first women to take a prominent part in Missouri Democratic politics, Mrs. Wise served as alternate delegate at the 1920 and 1924 national conventions of the party.

Contend Lewis Blocked Peace

MIAMI, Fla., Feb. 8—(AP)—The American Federation of Labor today directly charged John L. Lewis, CIO chieftain, with blocking peace between the organizations and asked President Roosevelt to make public what each of the two labor factions had agreed to do "so that responsibility for failure to resume peace negotiation x x shall be placed where it properly belongs."

William Green, Federation president, charged Lewis with failure to continue peace negotiations, and declared that the AFL always had been willing to work toward harmonious settlement of the long and bitter dispute between the two organizations.

Green made public the following telegram he said had been dispatched to the White House:

"The executive council of the American Federation of Labor now meeting in Miami respectfully requests that you make public the answers made by the American Federation of Labor and the CIO to your appeal that peace negotiations be resumed.

"The executive council feels as a matter of simple justice that this information should be given to labor and to the people of our nation so that responsibility for failure to resume peace negotiations as you requested shall be placed where it properly belongs."

Youth Group To Washington

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—(AP)—Hundreds of young people, six or eight of them with White House invitations in their pockets, turned toward Washington today to attend the American Youth Congress and to serenade the President with—

"We've been getting nothing else but love, Franklin.

"That's the thing that youth's got plenty of, Franklin."

The Congress expects 3,500, including sharecroppers from Oklahoma, college students from the coast, industrial workers from the middle West, and young Communists from New York—in spite of protests against "Reds."

Their slogan is: Jobs, peace and civil liberties. Five Chicago girls are planning to push baby carriages up Pennsylvania avenue with signs saying: "No war babies."

Songs will be blared from sound wagons Saturday morning on the march up the avenue to the White House lawn, where President Roosevelt will speak.

Though boycotted by Republican Chairman John Hamilton, congress officials say many young Republicans will participate. Hamilton declined to send a representative to the congress until Communist elements were expunged.

Demand for passage of a $500,000,000 youth act will be one of the subjects up for discussion. Congressmen are to be tempted—or threatened—with the fact that 8,000,000 new voters will be of age this year.

And the young people have a song for that, too. The tune is familiar and the words begin, "Roll out the ballots. Eight million new votes to cast."

Sees After The Loss Of Vision

ELDON, Mo., Feb. 8—(AP)—Olin Routen is carrying a cane no longer nor walking with the halting step of a blind man.

A blow on the head in a construction company accident four years ago cost Routen, 45, virtually all his power of vision.

Then last Sunday as he walked in the woods with his son Routen felt like he had been struck again.

"My head," he explained, "felt as big as a washtub."

"Weak in the knees," Routen went home to rest. As he regained his strength, opened his eyes, he thought he saw a picture on the wall. He looked further around the room, detected a crack in the wall.

Startled, he called his wife, and said he was either 'seeing things or going crazy.'

Overjoyed she verified what he saw, brought him a newspaper for a further test. He was able to read the headlines.

He surprised friends the next day by appearing in town without his cane, proved his regained vision by reading large type on a theater advertisement in a barber shop.

His physician explained Routen's eyes still were below normal and that he might never regain full sight for he has become afflicted with trachoma since the accident.

However, the doctor said, he readily believed that some shock might suddenly have restored that part of Routen's vision lost in the accident.

His sight had been impaired, to near blindness, the physician explained, by an adhesion around either the optic nerve or the optic center in the brain.

A sudden shock apparently released the pressure of the adhesion. The doctor said he could not guess whether the partial and sudden cure would prove permanent.

Ruling Given On Freight Service

JEFFERSON CITY, Feb. 8—(AP)—The Public Service Commission today ruled "freight forwarding" concerns are express companies and thus required to file rate schedules with the commission.

The ruling was issued against four St. Louis companies — The Acme Fast Freight, Inc., Kelleher Carloading and Distributing Co., National Carloading Corporation and the Universal Carloading and Distributing Company.

The Anderson Motor Service Company Inc. of St. Louis complained the companies competed with it in transportation of freight between St. Louis and Kansas City but that "complainant is unable to successfully meet the competition of the forwarders for the reason that the rates charged by them are unknown, x x x not being posted and filed in the same manner as those of the rail, express and motor carriers."

Forwarding shipments are collected until a carload is obtained, the proceedings disclosed, then shipped by rail at carlot rates, although charges against the shipper are based upon the less than carlot rates of motor carriers.

"We think there can be no doubt that the intrastate operations of freight forwarders and carloaders, such as these defendants, are clearly within the definition of express companies, that such companies are subject to the jurisdiction and regulation of this commission," the ruling said.

A legislative attempt to regulate freight forwarding operations was blocked in the state senate last year.

File Income Tax Liens On Hopson

NEW YORK, Feb. 8—(AP)—Income tax liens totaling $2,664,954 are on file in federal court against Howard C. Hopson, 57, almost legendary figure of the late 1920's startling finance, four of his relatives and five corporations which he dominated.

Hopson helped build the Associated Gas and Electric System into a billion-dollar business. He retired as officer and director of the system in 1935, retaining his financial interest.

The liens against him and the others, filed by the government yesterday, do not cover $5,000,000 in taxes due from companies in the Gas and Electric system. They may be applied on any property belonging to the persons and corporations named.

The action, federal authorities said, is not connected directly with the investigation of the Gas and Electric System's affairs being conducted by Hugh A. Fulton, named a special assistant to the attorney-general for that purpose. The company filed a reorganization petition January 10.

'Confessions' In Bombing Lines

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Feb. 8—(AP)—Authorities claimed confessions today from two of four men questioned in the bombing of power lines and towers of the Indiana and Michigan Electric company in the last year and a half.

Parish (Pat) Freeman, 31, of near Michigan City was reported by Police Chief M. J. Fornango of Joliet, Ill., to have admitted dynamiting eight towers and a sub-station.

Frank Lung, 25, of South Bend was said by Detective Ernest O. Nelson of this city to have confessed helping Freeman damage two towers near Ligonier last Nov. 23.

John A. Marks, 36, of Michigan City was named by Freeman, Chief Fornango said, as the man who paid him $1,400 for the jobs. The chief said Marks was assistant business agent of Local B-9, the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

The fourth man was taken into custody at Kalamazoo, Mich.

United States District Attorney James R. Fleming said in Fort Wayne he would present the case to the federal grand jury there next Monday.

No charges were filed against the men.

New Stamp War Breaks

Few Postoffices 'Beat The Gun' On Emerson Issue

BY EDDY GILMORE

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8— (AP) — A new stamp war broke out today involving Ralph Waldo Emerson, Mark Twain, Postmaster General Farley, a couple of congressmen and six cities.

Take the affair of Emerson first:

The three-cent Emerson stamps were sent to post offices throughout the nation with instructions that they were not to go on sale until after Boston started selling them on Feb. 5.

That is the usual case with commemorative stamps. Some city is given the honor of selling them first, and philatelists value highly stamps and letters from the "first day" post offices.

But Philatelists discovered to their horror some of the Emerson stamps in the mails before the sale started in Boston.

They bore postmarks of Salt Lake City, Harrisburg, Pa., Rockville, Mo., and Summerville, S. C.

"Bootleg stamps," shouted one group of collectors.

"But valuable nevertheless," shouted one group of collectors.

Try To Fix Value

While the Postoffice Department is investigating, the philatelists are trying to decide the value of the stamps that beat the gun.

Now the affair Twain:

Hannibal, Mo., was selected as the city for the first day sale of the Mark Twain 10-cent stamps. Then Rep. Miller (R-Conn.) suggested that Connecticut also share in the first day sales.

Rep. Shannon (D-Mo.) arose in wrath and suggested that Connecticut—not Hannibal—sell all the first day Twain stamps.

"The Missouri boys who enlisted with him (Mark Twain) in the Confederate army," said Shannon, "could overlook his becoming a deserter. They could overlook his becoming a Republican . . . .

"But it was too much to ask that they forget or forgive that Mark Twain, Missouri-born of a Virginia father and a Kentucky mother, consorted with those who laid the heavy and brutal hand of oppressor upon the southern people in the days of reconstruction."

Hannibal, however, will sell the first stamps—on February 13—and Farley will go there and speak about Mark Twain.

Farley will eulogize his literary career. He will not touch on his military life. The philatelists are fuming and loading more guns.

Offer Evidence Money Refunded

In the damage suit of Mrs. Lena Pearl Kerns asking $7,500, against Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Wilson of Sedalia, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Schwartze, of Leeder's Bluff, in which a verdict was rendered for the defendants by a jury in the circuit court the following defense was offered:

The defense contended that the plaintiff came to the cabin drinking, created a disturbance, provoked an altercation and that the Schwartze's, the caretakers, acted only in self defense. The evidence was that the Kerns' money was refunded, and it was when they returned to the cabin that the differences occurred.

T. C. Owens of Warrensburg and James T. Montgomery were attorneys for the plaintiff and John T. Martin and Barnett and Lamm were attorneys for the defendants.

Cheers Given To The Brave Finns

LONDON, Feb. 8— (AP) —Prime Minister Chamberlain told the House of Commons today that further British aid for Finland was on the way and that "the help given from this country has been of real value to Finland."

The success attending Finnish arms, Chamberlain said, "has evoked the admiration of the world."

This statement drew loud cheers from the legislators.

The prime minister voiced satisfaction over the results of the recent Balkan entente conference in Belgrade.

He asserted the seven-year renewal of the Balkan entente pact "indicates the determination of the governments of those countries to do everything in their power to maintain stability and security in southeastern Europe.

He expressed the belief that other states of southeastern Europe had "this important object equally at heart."

Of the Russian-Finnish conflict, Chamberlain said:

"The Finnish people continue their heroic struggle against an enemy who is using his huge air fleets in a vain endeavor to shake their spirit by burning the homes of the poor, shattering with high explosives hospitals full of wounded men and pursuing defenseless citizens with machine-guns."

Of the allied conflict with Germany, the prime minister said winter weather had halted war operations in recent weeks and even interfered with normal activities so that there were few events of importance to record.

Foes Dropped Behind Finnish Lines Captured

250 killed" and large quantities of military equipment captured.

Aircraft Active

Aircraft played a part in the operations, the communique said reporting that Russian planes had been repelled and enemy columns bombed at several points where "automobiles and other vehicles were packed in traffic jams."

Soviet planes appeared chiefly in small fighter patrols, the Finns said, and machine-gunned Finnish land forces.

Raids on the town of Kajaani and rural communities were reported.

"According to reports received so far, two civilians were killed," the communique said.

The Finns, withstanding continual heavy hammering by the Red army against the Mannerheim line on the Karelian isthmus, reported Soviet Russian forces on the Arctic Salla front were in retreat.

In Russian air raids on cities of the Finnish interior, war's fortunes led to the bombardment of a prison full of captive Russian troops.

The prisoners all were herded safely to shelters yesterday during the four-hour raid by 10 Russian planes on the north central town of Kajaani. Two Finns were killed and many others injured.

The Russian bombs were reported to have damaged two hospitals and a teachers' college, destroyed three houses, and fired 20 others.

Details of another raid on Turku, southwestern Finnish port, were not disclosed.

On the Salla front, reliable sources said the main body of Russians was falling back from Markajarvi toward the town of Salla, under cover of light Russian attacks at Markajarvi.

(The Russian military communique last night said there were Soviet reconnoitering and bombing flights but "nothing of importance at the front.")

Hull Recounts Protests Made

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8—(AP)—Secretary Hull wrote the senate foreign relations committee today that the state department did not consider the continuance of diplomatic relations with Russia to be "wholly contingent" upon fullfilment by the Soviet government of pledges made in the Litvinoff agreements which preceded official recognition in 1933.

The information was given in reply to a committee request for Hull's comment on a resolution by Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) asking the department to say whether the Litvinoff agreements had been kept. Contending that Russia has violated her pledges, Vandenberg has urged that diplomatic relations be broken off.

The secretary of state said that his department on several occasions "has had ground to believe that the Soviet government was not fully living up to the obligations undertaken at the time of the establishment" of relations.

He pointed out that the department had made firmal protests on such occasions.

Suggests Examination For Drivers' Licenses

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 8—(AP)—Missouri motorists pay $250,000 a year for drivers' licenses which J. S. Baker, consultant in motor vehicle administration for the National Safety Council, says give "an insignificant amount of safety."

Baker suggested an examination for physical condition, driving skill and road rules, saying the present law "pulls the tall weeds and lets the little ones go" by taking "only a small percentage of the very bad drivers off the highways."

Grave Anxiety For Lord Tweedsmuir

OTTAWA, Feb. 8—(AP)— The condition of Lord Tweedsmuir, 64, governor-general of Canada, is causing "grave anxiety, "said a bulletin issued today from government house.

Funeral of S. Rosenthal

Funeral services for Solomon Rosenthal, well known Sedalia merchant who passed away suddenly Tuesday night, were held at the Temple Beth El, Broadway and Missouri avenue, at 10:30 o'clock this morning. The Rabbi Nathan Barasch, of the Temple, officiated. A large gathering of relatives and friends attended.

The following friends of the Rosenthal family served as pall bearers: J. Waldman, J. Wasserman, S. Mindell, A. Chasnoff, Joe Kain, and D. Smolinsky, the latter of Kansas City.

Burial was in the Jewish cemetery on South Grand avenue.

Funeral of Mrs. Lena Shirley

The funeral for Mrs. Lena Shirley, wife of Sam Shirley, well known Sedalian, who passed away at the family home, 3200 South Kentucky avenue, were held at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon. The service was held at the McLaughlin Funeral Chapel with Mrs. Gorrell reading the Christian Science service.

Friends who served as pall bearers were: C. F. Appel, Ralph Boies, Donald Cook, Perry Williams, Jesse Martin, and Peter Anderson.

Burial was in the Crown Hill cemetery.

Clyde Raymond Harrison

Clyde Raymond Harrison, Jr., 20-year-old son of Mrs. Rose Harrison, died at his home, 1410 South Osage avenue, at 8:30 o'clock Wednesday night after a short illness.

His death came as a surprise since he appeared to be in good health after having an appendicitis operation last October. He was up and about until recently when he took sick with influenza.

He was well known in Sedalia. He went through Sacred Heart grade school and finished his sophomore year at Smith-Cotton high school, after which he went into the taxi business with his father, Clyde Harrison, who preceded him in death March 26, 1939.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Rose Harrison, and one sister, Mrs. Ruby Perkins of Higginsville. He was born November 17, 1919.

Funeral services will be held at 9 o'clock Saturday morning at Sacred Heart church, the Rev. Fr. Christian Daniel to officiate. Interment will be in Calvary cemetery.

Pall bearers will be Louis Hall, "Billy" Fingland, A. V. McKinney, Marion Elliott, Raymond Gerard and Johnnie Meyer.

The body was taken from the Ewing Funeral home to the Harrison residence this afternoon with the Rosary to be recited at 8:15 o'clock Friday night.

George Gould

George Gould died of double pneumonia at 3 o'clock Monday morning at his home several miles east of Stover. His illness started with the influenza.

He is survived by a son, a student in the high school, and by Mrs. Gould.

Mr. Gould was employed at the Cooper Cash store.

Ernest A. Peck

Ernest A. Peck, storekeeper at the Missouri, Kansas, Texas railway shops in Sedalia from August, 1929 to June of 1932, passed away in St. Louis at 5621 Kingshighway, on Tuesday, February 6, according to messages received here.

Besides his widow Mrs. Rose B. Peck, he is survived by a son, Russell Peck.

Mr. Peck since leaving Sedalia had been stationer for the M. K. T. lines at the general offices in St. Louis.

Funeral services will be held at 2 o'clock Saturday afternoon at the Kriegshauser mortuary, 4228 South Kingshighway with interment in St. Mathew's cemetery.

He was a member of Lambskin lodge No. 460, A. F. & A. M., Moolah Temple and the Scottish Rite of Fort Scott, Kas.

Page Of Pictures Given On Murals

Daniel MacMorris, Kansas City artist, who recently posed for a page of pictures in Kansas City's Sunday Picture Journal, was born in Sedalia, Missouri, in 1893 and moved to Kansas City at the age of three. His father was LeRoy MacMorriss, who taught penmanship in the Robbins Business College, and he has an uncle, Brown Hainline, who resides at 504 West Twenty-second street, Sedalia.

Daniel MacMorris studied art while attending Westport high school, later at the Kansas City Art Institute. He also worked as a newspaper artist.

He then studied at the Chicago Art Institute, the New York Art Institute and in Paris. In 1921 he won first prize at the Missouri State Fair and in 1923 received a fellowship in the Art Guild of the Louis Comfort Tiffany Foundation. He became a member of the Salmagundi Club, New York's famous old art club. In 1925 and 1926 he spent some time in Paris and in 1928 the famous Durand Ruel Galleries in Paris had an exhibition in various American art centers.

Among the many buildings decorated with his murals are the Ohio State Office Library of Columbus, murals in the William Rockhill Nelson Gallery of Art and Mary Atkins Museum of Fine Arts in Kansas City where he decorated the south vestibule and more recently the Rozzelle court and the Houston, Texas city hall.

Indicate Query On 'Influence'

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 8—(AP)—The new Jackson county grand jury indicated today it will investigate complaints that Gov. Lloyd C. Stark exerted his influence upon a previous grand jury which indicted Prosecutor W. W. Graves.

The jury subpoenaed two telegraph company officials and records of "any and all telegrams between Governor Stark and Judge William E. Kemp of the Kansas City Court of Appeals while Judge Allen C. Southern's grand jury was in session."

The jury began a study of police department payrolls when it convened today and indicated it later would question Earl McCollum, assistant general manager of the Kansas City Star, in an investigation of the company's tax returns for the past five years.

Judge Kemp is a former Pettis countian.

Stocks Lean To Rallying Side

NEW YORK, Feb. 8—(AP)—For the third consecutive session the stock market today leaned to the rallying side with favorites extending gains by fractions to around 2 points.

The list began to gather support after a forenoon spent in uneven territory. Aircrafts displayed firmness at the start. Selected steels, motors and specialties then stepped into line and, at the close, plus signs were to be seen in virtually all groups. Volume picked up for a while but slackened later. Transfers approximated 700,000 shares, best in about two weeks.

There were few outstanding developments in business, congress, politics or the European war, but speculative contingents throught the list appeared more responsive to bullish inspiration than otherwise.

"A Ride in the Park? No Sir!

LET'S GO TO FLOWER'S!

I want to see those new Spring Shoes the girls have been making such a fuss about. They tell me they are plenty good-looking. I hear they have just received another new shipment today!

Tasty new BRAN REFRIGERATOR ROLLS—TRY THEM

Finer hot breads and cakes with purer Spry—deep-fries without acrid smoke or odor

SPRY is purer. Stays fresh longer. Creams so easily. These are mighty important advantages and only Spry gives you all three! Change to Spry for all baking and frying.

BRAN REFRIGERATOR ROLLS

2 cakes compressed yeast
¼ cup lukewarm water
1 teaspoon sugar
1 cup Spry
1½ teaspoons salt
½ cup sugar
1 cup bran
1 cup boiling water
¼ cup milk
2 eggs, beaten
7 cups sifted all-purpose flour

Crumble yeast into small bowl or cup. Add lukewarm water and 1 teaspoon sugar and set in warm place until it becomes light and spongy (about 15 minutes). Combine Spry, salt, sugar and bran in large bowl and add boiling water. Stir until Spry is melted, then add milk. Add yeast mixture and eggs and mix. Add flour gradually, mixing very thoroughly until a stiff dough is formed.

Take out enough dough to make desired number of rolls. Grease hands thoroughly with Spry, pinch off pieces of dough, shape into balls and place in muffin pans greased with Spry. Let rise in warm place until double in bulk (about 2 hours). Bake in hot oven (425° F.) 12 to 15 minutes. Place remaining dough in large bowl greased with Spry. Cover and store in refrigerator for later use. Dough may be kept 2 or 3 days. Makes 3 dozen rolls.

(All measurements in this recipe are level.)

By Mrs. Harold Conway

John Schondamaier, of Houstonia, was a weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Das McClure and family. Mr. and Mrs. George Callis and sons Trigg, Jimmy and Joe Bruce called upon the McClure family on Sunday afternoon.

Tom Carson, who suffered a stroke of paralysis last week, remains about the same. The stroke affected his left side.

Rev. and Mrs. Lee Lakin, of Warrensburg, were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Berry Elliott and Mrs. Joe Elliott. Only a few members of the Christian church council attended the meeting in January held at the home of the Elliotts due to the extreme cold weather. The place and date for the February meeting has not been decided, depending on the weather.

Miss Mary May, who has a position at the state hospital at St. Joe, underwent an emergency operation at that place Saturday. Her sister, Mrs. Kenneth Duly of Kansas City is staying with her for several days. Mrs. Duly writes that Mary is getting along as well as could be expected.

Barbara Conway is confined to her bed with the flu.

Mr. Land was a dinner guest Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Foster and family. Ralph, who was accidentaly shot in the foot about 2 months ago and who has been at the home of his parents since, is able to travel just in the room in a wheel chair.

Rev. and Mrs. Walter Sullins and sons, Tommy and Jimmy, were dinner guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Swope.

Miss Mildred Lowery has not been able to return to the school where she is teaching as she has had a severe case of flu for the past three weeks.

A meeting to organize a Women's Athletic Association, sponsored by Miss Miller will be held at the school building on Tuesday afternoon. Facilities available to play ping-pong, vollyball, baseball and possibly archery and badminten may be had. This will be the first organization of this kind for women to be formed here. The men have been the only ones to participate in athletic sports outside of the grade and high schools.

The Hughesville Community club met at the school building in the auditorium on Friday night. The president, J. O. Kincheloe presided. The Educational committee, with Miss Miller as chairman had charge of the meeting. Plans for a St. Patrick's party were made and completed by the Social committee, to be given February 17, at 8 p. m. Mr. Murphy announced the Grain Show for Pettis county which is to be held in Sedalia on February 15 and 16. Dr. J. E. Cannaday of Sedalia gave an illustrated lecture with a movie on the countries he recently visited, Labrador, Newfoundland and the New York's World Fair. The next meeting will be held Friday night, March 1.

Talks Before Speakers' Club

At a meeting of the Speaker's club Wednesday night members discussed further on whether to admit women to the organization. No final action will be taken until it is known how many women are willing to belong, President Philip Kain, said.

Speakers for the evening and their subjects were: J. L. Curry, "Unemployment," Frank Hanagan, "Friends and Fellowship," Captain Eugene Hansman, "The Art of Telling Stories," and L. J. Brown, the fifth chapter of the speaker's text by Dale Carnegie, "How To Keep The Audience Awake." The criticism was by E. W. Kettelson.

W. E. Bruce, Abe Silverman and E. W. Kettelson will speak next week.

Playlet Given Before Sedalia PTA Council

Founders' Day Is Observed At Mark Twain School

Ideals which the National Congress of Parents and Teachers strives to inculcate in its members were presented in a playlet, "A Dream Come True," given at the annual Founders' Day observance of the Sedalia Council of Parent-Teacher associations at Mark Twain school Wednesday afternoon.

Six little girls, dressed in blue and gold costumes, stepped out of a large blue and white "birthday cake" and handed to the reader, Mrs. C. F. Appel acorns representing these ideals. They are learning, health and safety, happy homes, world good will, happiness and leisure time.

Mrs. Appel explained each in turn, saying that all blend into one to form character.

Tributes Are Paid

As a tribute to the pioneers in the Parent-Teacher movement and to those who are carrying on the work today, Donnie Carl presented a rose to each of the following president who are leading the groups in Sedalia: Mrs. P. R. Burford, sixth vice president of the Missouri Congress; Mrs. M. E. Green, district president; Mrs. C. E. Van Horn, council president; Mrs. Mary Ellis, Broadway school; Mrs. Ed Marshall, Horace Mann; Mrs. J. W. Estes, Jefferson; Mrs. H. M. Green, Whittier.

During this presentation Mrs. Appel read an appropriate poem written by Mrs. William Reed, and at the close little Barbara Sampson sang, "Auld Lang Syne," accompanied by Miss Marian Snell.

Other children who took part in the program were Patty Sue Callis, Mary Catherine Summers, Wanda Joe Carver, Betty Lou Momberg and Janet Erickson. Two high school girls, Anna May Gerster and Mary Louise Mahan played the parts of Mrs. Birney and Mrs. Hearst in the playlet.

A duet, "Faith of Our Founders" was sung by Mrs. Charles Farley and Mrs. Jack Lyons. Mrs. Glen Kirkpatrick accompanied. The devotional, "Hold High the Torch" was read by Mrs. Burford.

Following the program a tea was given with Mrs. Burford and Miss Nina Slater pouring. Valentine colors of red and white were carried out in the floral centerpiece and candles on the tea table. The centerpiece was presented to the Council president, Mrs. C. E. Van Horn.

Mrs. Roy Howerton was in charge of the tea. Mrs. Elmer Dillard, Mrs. James Atkinson and Mrs. Reed were the Founders' Day committee and Mrs. Pinkney Miller and Harry Lambirth served as hospitality committee.

Fellowship Of Prayer

Back Again

Thursday, February 8 . . . I have sinned; for I knew not that thou stoodest in the way against me; now, therefore, if it displease thee, I will get me back again. Read Numbers 22:31-35.

No stranger story in the Old Testament than this, but for all its strangeness it is luminous with insight. Its timeless message is that there are forbidden road down which—for it is "down"—the soul and society go at their peril. Roads where God waits to stop us, with the whole force of His moral order. We may break ourselves and our world against that sovereign order, but we cannot get by. There stands God.

"I am on a forbidden road," said the prophet. "Sorrow is not enough, I will get me back again." Simple as a child could say it, but all the recovery of any lostness is there. "I have sinned—I will get me back again." Repentance is just that—"getting me back again" back into obedience-road, back again on goodness-road, back again on mercy-road, good-will road, love's-road, the Master's-road; back again on the unbarred and shining highways of the soul.

Prayer: Almighty and Everlasting God. Who hatest nothing Thou hast made and dost forgive the sins of all them that are penitent, forgive us our blind wanderings in forbidden ways. Mercifully enable us to seek again the forsaken ways of peace and goodness, and establish us in His way, Who is the living way. Amen.

HAPPY RELIEF FROM PAINFUL BACKACHE

Many of those gnawing, nagging, painful backaches people blame on colds or strains are often caused by tired kidneys—and may be relieved when treated in the right way.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking excess acids and poisonous waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

If the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters don't work well, poisonous waste matter stays in the blood. These poisons may start nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Two word "beefsteak," as borrowed by the Spanish, becomes "beestay," spelled "biste."

It is easier to thread a needle if the end of the thread is cut on a bias.

Cupid's Doves, filled with fresh flowers, make a smart centerpiece for the Valentine's Day table. The flowers are roman hyacinths and pink bouvardia. Pink and white sweet peas, white narcissus and red sweet peas, or pink and white rose buds would be equally attractive.

The best dough to "retard," as the bakers say, is a good roll dough it is a little richer and sweeter than plain bread dough. Any dough may be retarded in the refrigerator if the yeast is increased by at least one-half, or even doubled. For example, if a recipe calls for 1 cake of yeast to 1 quart of liquid, it is best to use 2 cakes of yeast if the dough is to be kept in a refrigerator until used. An adequate amount of sugar in the dough is also important.

Local Golden Glovers Were In Light Workouts

Dean Murray Defeated Next Foe Before

Boys Hope To Bring Central Missouri Its First Titles

Light workouts were taken on Wednesday afternoon by four surviving members of the Central Missouri Golden Gloves team, who have advanced into the semi-finals of the Tournament of Champions in Kansas City. The final night of fighting will be Friday.

Denver "Buck" Miller, flyweight; Dean Murray, bantamweight and Sidney Dahlstedt, heavyweight, met early in the evening at the local training quarters and spent more than an hour shadow boxing, jumping rope and limbering up on sand bag.

Today they will have another work out and then prepare to leave Friday for Kansas City.

McMillian Takes Workout

Over in Columbia, Barney "Aggie" McMillian, middleweight representative of the Sedalia team, took a light workout similar to that of the local boys. McMillian wired the Sedalia Democrat-Capital, local Golden Gloves sponsor, he never felt better in his life.

The four were elated over their victories in the first two nights of the tournament and are confident they will survive Friday night to bring Central Missouri its first championships in the Tournament of Champions.

Murray defeated Tony Ortego, his semi-final foe, in Kansas City, Kas., last fall and the Sedalia bantamweight is depending on out-punching his former opponent to advance to the finals against either Eddie Hudson or Eli Castro.

"I am going to do my best to win the title," Murray said. "It is my ambition to represent Sedalia in Chicago and in the A. A. U. Tourney in Boston."

Miller has never met Steve Lapari, but he has watched the young flyweight in action and is confident he will be able to handle his bout.

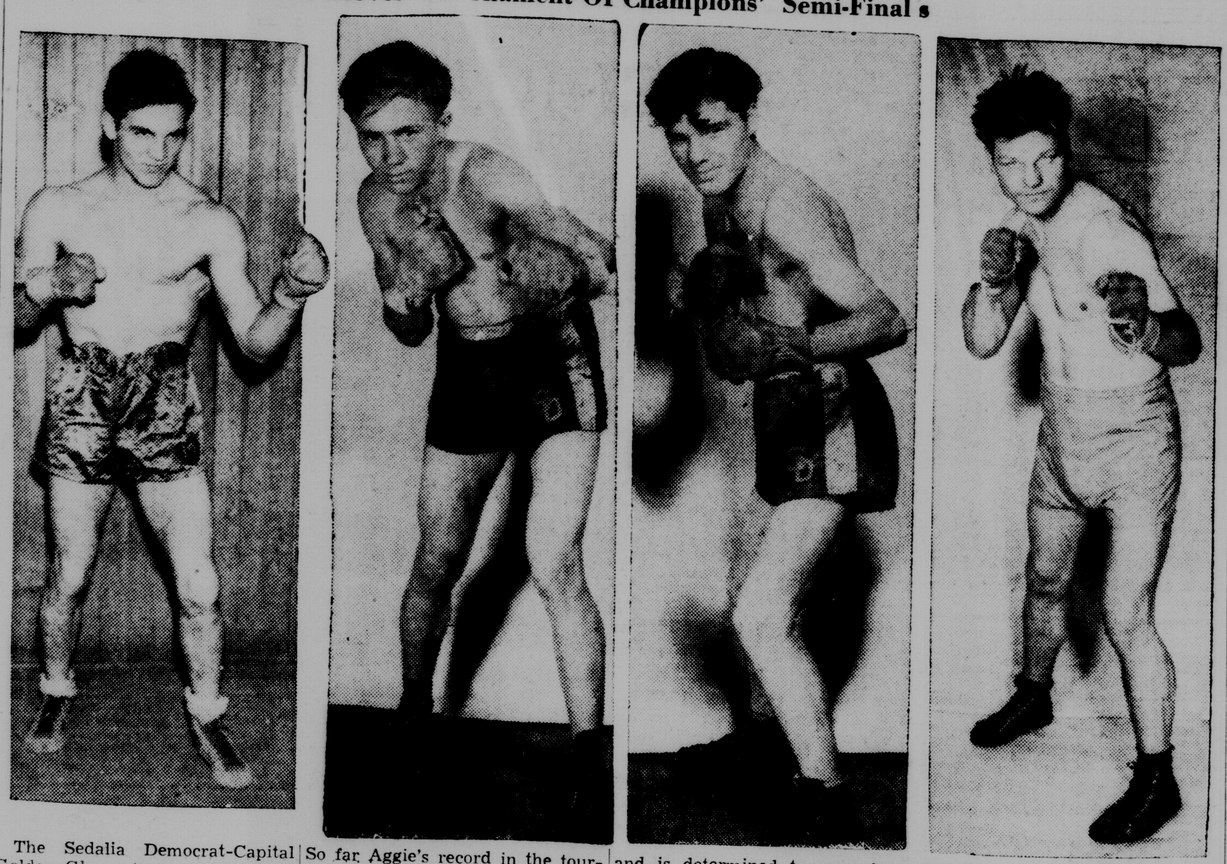
Dahlstedt, who made his debut in the ring this winter, fears none of the approaching opponents, especially Chalk Dixon, Negro heavyweight of the Gateway A. C. Dahlstedt watched Dixon in two of his fights and is positive he will learn his weakness. With the heart the Sedalia heavyweight has and the hard punches he throws, he is a slight favorite.

Three Knockouts

McMillian's three fights in the tournament have been won by knockouts, either technical or ten counts, and this record has prospective opponents worried. The three-time Central Missouri title holder gives credit to his coaches for planning his attacks.

The boys will undergo another physical examination in Kansas City early Friday. They will not have to weigh in again and this will be an advantage to McMillian, Murray and Miller.

They Are In The Golden Gloves 'Tournament Of Champions' Semi-Finals



The Sedalia Democrat-Capital Golden Gloves team, composed of the best boxers from over Central Missouri, will be represented in the semi-finals by four boys, three Sedalians and one from Clinton, but who is now attending the University of Missouri at Columbia. These boys have turned in great record this season and all Central Missouri fans are hoping they will survive the finals.

Barney "Aggie" McMillian, left, a student in the University of Missouri, whose home is in Clinton, is in the middleweight division. So far Aggie's record in the tournament is outstanding with all his victories by the knockout route.

Denver "Buck" Miller, who for four years has been battling in the Democrat-Capital tournaments and who has held the title in his division here twice, is to meet Steve Lapari of the Kansas City Police team in the semi-finals. Miller won his first fight by a close decision and is expected to cut loose in the next with his old time style.

Dean Murray, bantamweight, has built up a winning complex and is determined to come back to Sedalia with the crown of his division on his head. He decisioned Broshears of Springfield in his first fight and then returned the second night to knock out Artie Brown of St. Joseph.

Sidney Dahlstedt, who made his debut in boxing only a few weeks ago, has already thrown a scare into the semi-finals by eliminating the Springfield, Mo., favorite in a close decision.

These boxers, representing Sedalia, will be supported by a good delegation of fight fans from this territory who will be on hand Friday night in Kansas City.

Tiger Cagers Will Make Two-Day Trip

The Tigers of Smith-Cotton high school will take a two-day basketball trip this weekend, playing at Kirksville on Friday and Hannibal on Saturday both games being Central Missouri Conference affairs. The following week Kirksville returns the game to Sedalia here on February 13, and Hannibal the same week here on February 16.

Kirksville lost to Jefferson City by a close score, and Hannibal has had a fair record in its games.

With nine days from the time of the last game until the game with Kirksville, the Tigers have been taking it easy but are going through regular practice. Coach Davenport in looking over the material is still undecided just who will be the ten players for the trip.

McNatt Heads Big Six Scorers

By HAROLD CLAASEEN

KANSAS CITY, Feb. 8—(AP)—Sidney Held of Nebraska, outstanding sophomore of the Big Six basketball campaign, is the third highest scored with 44 points in six games.

The 6 foot 4 youngster who cavorts in the Husker back court was an all-star performer at Lincoln high before going to Nebraska. Now he is the shining light of a team that has won only one conference game in six tries.

Jimmy McNatt and Marvin Mesch, both of Oklahoma, continue in the one-two spots although Mesch was too ill to compete in the last Sooner contest. McNatt has totaled 70 points in six games and Mesch 48 in five.

McNatt's average of 14 points a game approaches the 15.4 record set by Frank Groves of Kansas State, in 1937.

Leading scorers:

Waxers Win By A Single Point

Capt. "Bunny" Taylor of the Van Brite Waxers was fouled just as the game ended and sank a free throw after the whistle to trip the Hughesville town team 32 to 31. The game was close all the way and neither team led more than 5 points at any time.

The Waxers at times passed very well and looked in fairly good form, but at other times their playing was ragged.

Harold Mindell had one of his on nights and was high scorer for the Waxers with 12 points, while H. Nagel of Hughesville also scored 12 points.

The game was played in the Hughesville high school gymnasium.

Godoy's Crouching Attack May Bother Louis, Temporarily

Chilean Fighter's Technique Designed To Annoy Bomber; Fought Here Before

By SID FEDER

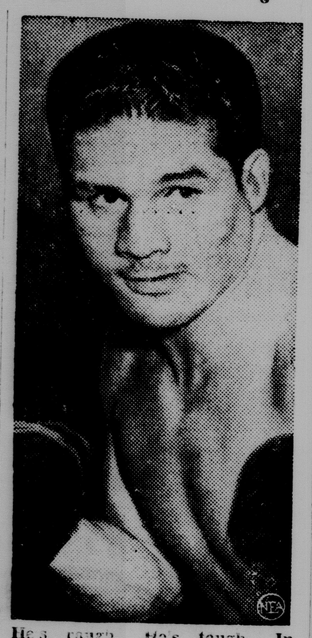
NEW YORK, Feb. 8—(AP)—His best punch is his "head to the chin;" he's rougher than Tony Galento, and he's always crouching low, covering vital spots and pitching a left hook that starts somewhere near Coney Island.

The name is Arturo Godoy, and he's the Chilean who's going to try the South American way against Joe Louis in Madison Square Garden Friday night.

He's definitely the one type of fighter Louis doesn't fancy. A "stand-up guy," as the trade puts it, is easy for the heavyweight champion. A fellow who leads to him is a cinch. But when they bob and weave and crouch until they're on top of the Bomber—he doesn't like it so much, and he exercises considerable caution with such fellows.

Might Even Last The Route

That's why a lot of the wise lads along Bash Boulevard figured tonight Godoy is even money to answer the bell for the sixth round and has a good chance of being the big man who was there when the 15 rounds are over.



He's rough. He's tough. In fact, he's even favored to last all of six rounds with heavyweight champion Joe Louis, when they meet in New York Friday night. The object of all this optimism is none other than Arturo Godoy, Chile's gift to the boxing ring and latest white hope.

There's little chance that Arturo will end the Bomber's all-time record of eight straight successful championship defenses, because Louis admittedly has too much class for him. But most of the folks agree that Godoy has the style to make things interesting for more than the usual brief stand against the boss man of the big fellows.

The South American fisherman campaigned up here a couple of years ago with some success, losing only two of 12 starts. He whipped Tony Galento twice, once on the same card on which Louis dethroned gallant Jim Braddock. But he was beaten by Roscoe Toles and Natie Mann.

Signed By Cable

At that time he fought under the management of Lou Brix. When there seemed a possibility that Promoter Mike Jacobs might run out of opponents for Louis, Brix released the fighter and Al Weill, who had been matchmaker for Madison Square Garden on Godoy's previous invasion, signed him up by cable.

The fact that he's a rough, tough citizen inside those ropes, and that he twice trimmed two-ton Tony, who sat Louis on the seat of his silk panties before the Bomber bombed in Yankee Stadium last summer, has intrigued the cash customers considerably, to the delight of Promoter Jacobs. After the last count of the box office, "Uncle Mike" figured that Louis' record of never having attracted a gate of less than $100,000 for any of his fights in Madison Square Garden was safe.

BOY SCOUT WEEK

A SCOUT, according to Webster, is one who reconnoiters, watches, observes or follows—an apt description of the Boy Scout movement whose members reconnoiter life in their scouting activities. That this effort and fellowship is beneficial, no one can deny. It not only helps boys individually to develop more perfectly, but also has proved worthwhile in making communities everywhere better places in which to live. Scouting is deserving of everyone's continued support . . . parents, businessmen and civic bodies. Are you doing your shar ?

Use of Anesthesia to Relieve Pain Called Mankind's Greatest Blessing

By Dr. Morris Fishbein

(This is the fourth in a series of 11 articles by Dr. Fishbein on Magic Medical Bullets.)

One of the greatest blessings of mankind—placed by many observers as number one in all the accomplishments of scientific medicine—is the development of anesthesia for the relief of pain.

The ancient Greeks knew that there were mixtures of herbs or drugs which could be taken by mouth and produce unconciousness. The famous father of surgery, Ambrose Pare, knew of the possibility of deadening pain. Surgeons of the early 19th century used to intoxicate patients with alcohol or opium.

Not until March, 1842, did a physician actually use ether on a patient, however. That physician was Dr. Crawford W. Long of Danielsville, Georgia.

In 1844, a dentist of Hartford, Conn., named Horace Wells, began to use inhalations of nitrous oxide gas (or laughing gas) on patients from whom he planned to pull teeth. One of his patients died, however, and it had such an effect on the dentist that he withdrew from practice.

Wells told about his work to another dentist, William Thomas Green Morton, a man who was his friend and former partner. Morton learned about the effects of ether and Morton used some while pulling a tooth for a patient in July, 1844.

Encouraged by his results, Morton visited Dr. John Collins Warren of the Massachusetts General Hospital and persuaded him to try ether in surgery. On Oct. 16, 1846, Dr. Warren dissected a tumor from the left side of the neck of a patient with the patient unconscious as a result of inhaling ether. When he finished the operation in five minutes, Dr. Warren said, "Gentlemen, this is no humbug."

On the next day he did another operation, removing a tumor of the shoulder. The results were published in November, 1846, and since that time the use of anesthesia have been steadily developed so that today people no longer need fear pain associated with surgery. The words "anesthesia" and "anesthetic" were proposed by Oliver Wendell Holmes.

In 1847, for the first time, ether was used to control pain in childbirth, and a little later chlorform was used for the same purpose.

It is impossible for those who are unfamiliar with the conditions that existed before 1840 to realize what these great discoveries have meant for the health and happiness of human beings.

Swiss Charity Issue Honors Army Leader

GEN. HANS HERZOG, 19th century Swiss military leader, joins philately's portrait gallery in the anti-tuberculosis, semi-postal series of four stamps recently released by Switzerland. Herzog was commander-in-chief of the army guarding the frontier during the Franco-Prussian war, later commanded the Swiss artillery.

Other values of the series show three girls, in dress typical of the cantons of Friburg, Obwald and Basle. The girl of the canton of Obwald is shown on the stamp below.

• • •

Swiss army authorities have restricted the issue of military stamps to a single charity issue for each battalion. Since the outbreak of the war more than 300 varieties were released.

Six Entries In Drama Contest

Interest has run high in the play writing contest of Pettis county. The contest closed February 1 with two entries in each class. They are: "The College Cheat," by Mrs. P. S. Read; "The Sims Move to Town," by Sena Moss; "Fisherman's Luck," by Robin Stockman; "Mistaken Identity," by Mrs. W. G. Green; "Some Day We'll Understand," by Sena Moss and "Grandpa to the Rescue," by Dolores Strader.

This event was started in 1939 in connection with the rural play production festival and with only one division of plays. This year adequate interest was manifest to cause division of classes, therefore, the groups have been designated as one-act comedy, one-act drama and three-act play. Recognition will be given first and second place in each class, but no prizes are offered. It is the desire of the dramatic committee; Mrs. H. L. Hill, Mrs. C. E. Ferguson, Mrs. Paul Read, Roy Freund, Mrs. Floyd McFarland and the county extension agents, to interest the groups in writing their own productions.

The plays have been sent away for judging and winners will be announced at the county play production contest in the Smith-Cotton high school auditorium on March 13 and 14.

Advance Funds For Explosives

WILMINGTON, Del., Feb. 8—(AP)—Leland Lyon, president of the Atlas Powder company, disclosed today that the British government has advanced money to his company for construction in the United States of an explosives plant whose total output would be consigned to the British and French armies.

"We expect to begin building immediately and to have the plant in production within six months," Lyons said.

He refused to amplify this statement other than to say that operation of the plant would necessitate an increase in the number of Atlas employes.

Seals Of Achievement Won By 27 Pettis County 4-H Clubs

Recognition has again come to Pettis county 4-H clubs who have lived up to their motto "To make the best better." The county Extension Office has just received gold seals of achievement for 27 clubs which were active last year to the extent that they met the requirements of having had a project leader for each standard project, a definite program of work for the year, regular club meetings, with officers in charge, exhibits, demonstrations and judging, an achievement program and at least 60 per cent of the members who started the work completing their projects in an appreciable manner.

The gold seals are to be attached to the charters of the following club:

Smithton Health & Sanitation, Dresden Choicy Canners, Van Natta Happy Cookers, Smithton Yum Yum, Smithton Jolly Chefs, Smithton Sewing Club, Quisenberry Klassy Kutters, Hughesville Busy Bees, Scott School Clothing Club, Flat Creek Community 4-H Club.

Sunnyside 4-H Poultry, South Abell Poultry, Maplewood Crowers & Cacklers, Brush Ring Poultry, Houstonia Chicken, Dresden Poultry 4-H Club, Prairie Ridge 4-H Sow & Litter, Flat Creek 4-H Livestock Judging, Smithton Entomology, Maplewood Forestry, Liberty School Tree.

Maplewood Ewe And Lamb, Smithton Dairy, Grange Good Luck, Hughesville Baby Beef, Bowling Green Blue Ribbon Calf, Oak Grove Community.

$7,500 Damage Suit Fails

After 30 minutes deliberation late Wednesday afternoon, a jury in the Pettis county circuit court returned a verdict for the defendants, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Wilson of Sedalia, and Mr. and Mrs. Henry J. Schwartze of Leeder's Bluff, in a $7,500 damage suit filed by Mrs. Lena Pearl Kerns of Overland Park, Kas.

The jury was given the case at 5:15 o'clock after hearing the closing arguments of the defense and plaintiff attorneys. The case was brought to trial Tuesday morning before Judge Dimmitt Hoffman.

Originally called for on December 1, it was reset for Tuesday because of the absence of a defense witness on the earlier date.

The plaintiff alleged that she was permanently injured when her arm was broken in a fall last June, which, she asserted, was caused when Mrs. Schwartze struck at her after some differences over change that Mrs. Kerns and her husband alleged was due them.

They had made arrangements to rent a cabin overnight at Leeder's Bluff, a resort. The cabin site where they went is owned by Mr. and Mrs. Wilson and is operated by Mr. and Mrs. Schwartze.

Mrs. Kerns asked $5,000 actual and $2,500 punitive damages.

Gardening Is Great Help To FSA Families

Low-Income Group Finds Way To Live More Economically

Many farm families have been materially benefited by the better garden program sponsored by the FSA among its borrowers. The theory of larger, more productive, and better managed gardens from which more of the family food supply is furnished in summer and canned and stored for winter has been taught to FSA clients for over five years.

With the ever increased cost of living and keen competition in agriculture, the low-income families are realizing more each year the possibilities of not only living more economically by producing good gardens but at the same time living better and enjoying better health by the use of a balanced budget.

The amount, variety and quality of vegetables produced can be improved by following a few simple rules. These proven practices recommended by the Department of Agriculture include adequate fencing to protect from poultry and rabbits, heavy application of barnyard manure prior to plowing to increase fertility fall plowing as a means of storing moisture and controlling insects and plant diseases and early selection of a large variety of good quality seed purchased in bulk from reliable dealers.

This information relative to the garden program followed by the majority of FSA clients is furnished by Oscar H. DeWolf, RR Supervisor, Mary L. Johnson and Lettie W. Chase, HM Supervisors of Pettis County. Some interesting notes of progress in better living by use of improved garden practices in Pettis County are:

A report on the average of 134 families show that in their canning 50,094 quarts of fruit, vegetables and meats were canned for home consumption in 1939. This is an average of 396 quarts of canned food per family with an average of 81 quarts for each individual of the 134 families. The valuation of the total quarts canned is $15,028.00 an average of $119.60 worth of canned foods for each family.

Seasonal information to clients on gardening will be given out in circular letters, group meetings and news articles from time to time. This information will include helpful suggestions on planting, cultivation, insect control, mulching in case of drought, and canning and storage of vegetables.

Take Interest In Welfare Of The Migrants

Women's Council To Help Support Welfare More

(BY CHURCH REPORTER)

Recent press notices in regard to Governor Stark's efforts on behalf of the share croppers in southern Missouri has called attention not only to the share croppers but to the great number of migrant laborers who have gathered fruits and vegetables in all parts of the country. Many families start in Florida, harvesting the early crops of tomatoes, celery, and potatoes, then move to Tennessee for the strawberry crop, after which they go to Michigan for strawberries, cherries, peaches, and grapes, and then back to Florida to start all over again.

Although the government has but recently taken definite cognizance of the problem of the migrant laborer, the Council of Women for Home Missions has been interested in their welfare for the past twenty years. The women are conducting fifty-six centers for migrant families in fourteen states. Their program includes work for children and young people as well as the other members of the family. The newest service is furnishing a team including a minister, his wife, who is a trained children's worker, and a nurse. The team stays in one migrant area for the crop season and then goes on with the workers. The local council of women is interested in helping support this work.

Part of the collection at the World Day of Prayer on Friday will be given to this project. Other projects that are supported by the women are work among the Indian students in U. S. government schools, support of Union Christian colleges in China, India, and Japan, and the distribution of Christian literature in foreign countries. It is hoped that a generous response for funds will be given at the World Day of Prayer service in Sedalia, which will be held Friday, beginning at ten o'clock in the morning and continuing until three in the afternoon.

The service will be held in the Episcopal church, Broadway and Ohio avenue, and the ministers of the city will have charge, ministers taking thirty minutes each.

The facts are simple because of all conditions effecting the human body a low blood count is most deceptive. If you feel rundown . . . lack a keen appetite . . . have lost weight . . . don't give up until you restore those precious red-blood-cells back to normal.

S.S.S. Tonic may be just what you need to get you on the right road to health and happiness again.

In S.S.S. Tonic you go after the trouble in two ways . . . first you increase the appetite and better your stomach digestion—thus making better use of the food you eat—secondly, thin, weak, watery blood is made rich and red again thus giving you a boost in energy.

Try S.S.S. which any drug store can supply and no ethical dealer will suggest a substitute. The big 20 oz. size is a two week's treatment and represents a saving in the purchase price. ©S.S.S. Co.

BRONCHIAL COUGHS DUE TO COLDS

To quickly relieve DISTRESS—when a cold affects your upper bronchial tubes—REMEMBER it takes MORE than "just a salve!" You need to rub your chest, throat and back with a warming, soothing "counter-irritant" like good old reliable Musterole which penetrates the outer layers of the skin and helps break up local congestion and pain. Its soothing vapors ease breathing. Used by millions for over 30 years! 3 strengths: Regular, Children's (mild) and Extra Strong, 40¢. Hospital Size, $3.00.

WAKE UP YOUR LIVER BILE—
Without Calomel—And You'll Jump Out of Bed in the Morning Rarin' to Go
The liver should pour out two pints of liquid bile into your bowels daily. If this bile is not flowing freely, your food may not digest. It may just decay in the bowels. Gas bloats up your stomach. You get constipated. You feel sour, sunk and the world looks punk.
It takes those good, old Carter's Little Liver Pills to get these two pints of bile flowing freely to make you feel "up and up." Amazing in making bile flow freely. Ask for Carter's Little Liver Pills by name. 10¢ and 25¢. Stubbornly refuse anything else.
